Red Papers Hit 'One-Man Rule'

Zhukov Seen Prime Target

Kremlin Decision Due To Be Revealed Soon

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet navy newspaper charged today that attempts had been made to build up "one - man command in the army and navy."

Most observers were convinced that the "one-man" tag was leveled at none other than Army Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov.

The navy paper reported that a "decisive condemnation" of attempts to de-emphasize the role of Communist party organizations in the armed forces, but did not say by exact name who had condemned them.

The paper's report was published after informed sources here said a final decision has been reached in the case of army Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov and would be published shortly.

Zhukov was relieved as defense minister last Saturday. But there has been no announcement about his future or the reasons for his removal.

Tuesday night, however, party boss Nikita Khrushchev told reporters at a cocktail party held in the Turkish embassy in Moscow that "we have not decided on a new job for him (Zhukov) yet, but he will have one according to his experience and qualifications."

* * *

REPORTS IN Belgrade, Yugoslavia, said Zhukov had been expelled from the Soviet Communist party's Central Committee and the Presidium, the ruling Politburo. These reports hinted the marshal's resistance to accepting appointment to a lesser military post was delaying the official announcement.

Correspondents for Communist newspapers in West European newspapers have asserted Zhukov interfered with party indoctrination programs in order to build up military officers' control of the armed forces, and was accused of bonapartism — political ambitions which made him a rival to Khrushchev.

Both Soviet Fleet and Red Star, the army newspaper, continued to preach with forceful words the idea that absolute party control of the army and navy is necessary. Both papers are organs of the Defense Ministry, now under Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

Southerners Eye 3 Developments In Racial Dispute

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern states today pondered three developments in the continuing racial segregation dispute.

In Georgia, an organization is active with the sole purpose of resettling Southern Negro families in exclusive Northern white communities.

In Alabama, a jury deliberated less than an hour in convicting a white man of mutilating a Negro "as an example to integration leaders."

In Arkansas, the Little Rock City Council ordered the arrest of all officers of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

In the Georgia case, a spokesman for the resettlement group says Vice President Richard Nixon may be the group's first target.

But the founder of the group, American Resettlement Foundation, Inc., said any such report was entirely without foundation.

* * *

STATE WELFARE Director Alan Kemper, a charter member of the foundation, asked about the Nixon report, replied:

"I would say Nixon is a pretty good candidate."

He declined, however, to be more specific.

State Rep. A. A. Fowler Jr. of Douglasville, founder of the organization, said there was nothing to the report.

Kemper said a Negro family, preferably a large one, will be moved into a swank Northern white residential area by Christmas and that Fowler had obtained an option on a house in the $75,000 class. The plan is to rent the house to the Negro family for $1 a year.

In Birmingham, Ala., the first of six Ku Klux Klansmen has been convicted in the mutilation of a Negro man, and the trial of five others will begin next week.

Joe E. Pritchett, 31-year - old construction worker, was convicted of mayhem Thursday by a circuit court jury which deliberated about 40 minutes.

Judge Alta King sentenced the Klansman to 20 years imprisonment—the maximum sentence.

Pritchett, called the grand cyclops of the Klan organization to which he belonged, and five other white men were indicted on a charge of kidnaping a 33-year-old Negro handyman, Edward Aaron last Labor Day. Aaron was taken to a Klan meeting place, where he was beaten and then castrated.

* * *

WITNESSES related that Aaron was chosen at random, to serve as an example to impress integration leaders in the Birmingham area.

In Little Rock, police today had orders to arrest all officers of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People they could find there.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann notified the NAACP and three Little Rock segregationist groups Oct. 15 that they would have to make their records public under the new ordinance.

The NAACP this week filed a petition in U. S. District Court here requesting a restraining order to block enforcement of the ordinance and a hearing was set for Nov. 4.

All three of the segregationist groups — the League of Central High Mothers, the Freedom Fund for Little Rock and the Capital Citizens Council—Submitted their records to the city Thursday.

Mann told all four organizations that he considered all were contributing to racial tension at Little Rock.

Intercontinental Missile Is Tested

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has disclosed the test firing of an intercontinental guided missile, the Snark, at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., range.

The Snark is an Air Force missile which is subsonic in flight but dives on its target at supersonic speeds.

Thursday night's Snark announcement followed by several hours a Defense Department report that a Jupiter-A missile, fired Wednesday night at the Florida base, was destroyed by a safety officer because of a malfunction.

The Jupiter-A, an Army device, is classified as an intermediate range ballistic missile, in the 1,500-mile category.

Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, said Thursday the intercontinental ballistic missile does not make other weapons obsolete.

"IT'S A GOOD thing we have many ways of getting to them (the Russians)," he said after returning from an inspection of the 7th Fleet in the Pacific.

Among the other ways, he listed long range Air Force bombers, "all kinds of missiles, including Navy missiles — and, of course, Navy Air."

In Baltimore Thursday night, the Air Force's Air Research and Development Command said it has duplicated in a new wind tunnel the high temperatures, pressures and velocities encountered by missiles re-entering the atmosphere.

The command said the tunnel, called "Hotshot," has generated temperatures in excess of 15,000 degrees fahrenheit, pressures of more than 20,000 pounds per square inch, and velocities up to 20 times the speed of sound.

The research is being conducted at the Arnold Engineering Development Center near Tullahoma, Tenn.

As the United States pressed its missile work, Russia's Sputnik stayed in its orbit, quietly circling the earth at 18,000 m.p.h. The Red sphere was launched Oct. 4.

Sputnik and its carrier rocket are not presently crossing the American continent during the twilight hours when visual observations are possible.

That, plus the satellite's week long radio silence, has reduced U. S. tracking activity.

U. S. Scientific Training 'Lags'

CHICAGO (AP)—A ranking scientific manpower authority said today it will be months before the government can even begin to retool its scientific training programs to cope with "events of the past three weeks."

The three-week period cited by M. H. Trytten covers approximately the time in which Russia lofted its Sputnik and claimed to have perfected a hydrogen warhead for guided missiles.

Trytten added in a speech prepared for a scientific and engineering education conference:

"We know, too, that in spite of all we can do in the next few years the shortage of high level researchers will remain and our relative supply in comparison to the Iron Curtain countries will become worse over the immediate future measured in years."

Trytten is director of the Office of Scientific Personnel of the National Academy of Sciences - National Research Council, Washington. The twin agencies are nongovernmental but work closely with the government.

"The challenge which has broken upon us," Trytten said, "is so massive that it will be months before the various new programs and the reorientation of old ones can be analyzed for their manpower requirements."

As to the present supply of scientists and engineers, Trytten said figures are "elusive and unsatisfactory." He estimated, however, that there are about 600,000 professionally qualified engineers in the country despite "some recent national enumerations which indicate up to 900,000." He did not identify these enumerations.

Noting that engineering school graduations have begun to rise after a dive in the early '50s and promise to rise further, he said "this is indeed hopeful but much ground needs to be recovered."

Little Vandalism In City, County

Now that it's over with, let it be written that Oct. 31, 1957, was the quietest Halloween Washington C. H. and Fayette County have had in living memory.

"I guess the youngsters in Washington C. H. are just a pretty well-behaved bunch," Police Chief D. Vaiden Long said.

"It's the quietest since I took office 13 years ago," Sheriff Orland Hays said.

"I just can't figure it out," a police patrolman commented.

* * *

VANDALISM was held to a minimum. There were no reports of destruction or mayhem from any part of the county. Soaped windows— plenty of them, in the downtown district— seemed to be the only evidence that the youngsters were out. And the WHS Hi-Y Club washed the soap away early Friday. (See Page 9).

The new record low in vandalism was matched with, and possibly related to, another new record: the Jaycee Halloween celebration drew about as few youngsters as it has since its inception.

There were about 200 children there, festooned in a colorful array of costumes, laughing and playing and having a good time. But for some reason— possibly the unseasonable cold and damp weather, possibly something entirely different— the crowd wasn't what it has been.

Nevertheless, the children who did turn out for the Jaycee's annual spree, appeared to have all the fun they could have wanted.

The colorful parade of spooks, hobgoblins and other characters of the imagination delighted the crowd that came out to see it. And the party at the park, highlighted by a costume judging contest and a furious cream-pie - eating contest won accolades from youngsters and oldsters alike.

* * *

"GUESTS" at the party included Little Bo-Peep, Uncle Sam, a live scarecrow and a walking pumpkin. Each of the guests was the product of some child's imagination and ingenuity— with an occasional assist from the parents.

All of the above-mentioned guests, along with an array of others, won prizes from the Jaycees for their skill in costume-making.

Champ from about a dozen contestants in the pie-eating contest was Tom Stookey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stookey of 204 Bell Ave. Face smeared with filling

Oregon Debating Size of Tax Cut

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—The two houses of the Oregon state legislature, called into special session to deal with an expected $74 million tax surplus, are unable to agree on how much taxes should be cut.

Thursday the Democratic-dominated House of Representatives voted 33-26 for Democratic Gov. Robert D. Holmes' program of cutting income taxes 10 per cent and increasing the basic school support fund from the present $95 per child a year to $105.

The bill then went to the Senate tax committee which approved the school fund plan but voted much larger tax cuts.

Former Sabina Power Plant Swept by Fire

SABINA — Only the roofless skeleton of the former Sabina power plant remained at dawn Friday after fire swept through the abandoned building about two hours after midnight.

The flames were discovered about 2:30 a. m. by Berman Wynkoop, who lives nearby. He said the roof was ablaze then and that he could see fire inside the building.

Because the flames had such a start before discovered, the fire was out of control by the time the village's volunteer fire department equipment arrived within a short time after the alarm had been sounded by Wynkoop.

A little more than an hour after it was discovered, the fire had virtually burned itself out. Only the brick walls remained. The roof was gone, a mass of charred debris that had collapsed and crashed down inside the walls.

There was little else to burn. Most of the floor was concrete, but that part which was of wood and a few doors added to the blaze.

Queen Convinced Of Strong U. S. Tie

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II said today that her visit to the United States strengthened her conviction "that the ties which bind our peoples are strong and enduring."

Her speech, terminating the present session of Parliament, was read for her to assembled lords and members of the House of Commons. Parliament's new session opens Tuesday.

Written by Prime Minister Macmillan's Cabinet in accordance with tradition, the speech largely reviewed the government's foreign, commonwealth and domestic policy of the last 12 months.

State Driver Examiner Said Bribe-Taker

CLEVELAND (AP)—A charge of accepting bribes was filed Thursday against a state driver's license examiner accused of authorizing licenses for immigrants who could not speak English.

State highway patrolmen questioned Ralph E. Switzer, 38, for more than six hours Thursday before bringing charges. Switzer pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing before Mayor Elmer E. Elbrecht of suburban Lyndhurst. He was bound over to the grand jury on $2,500 bond.

The highway patrol identified the bribe-giver as Joseph Benson, 35, of nearby Lakewood, who operates a driving school which advertises "competent driving instruction in seven languages."

Patrolmen quoted Benson that he paid between $300 and $400 to Switzer to alter the written examination papers of Benson's driving students. Many of the students had failed earlier tests because they could not read English.

The patrolmen said they would turn over to the county prosecutor the facts on Benson's role.

Switzer denied he accepted any cash payments, but admitted making fraudulent entries on examination papers, patrolmen said.

A 28-year-old refugee, whose name was withheld, supplied authorities with a lead for their investigation. After flunking his first test he was given a brief oral examination and then was told he had passed.

Fraternity Pin Binding by Law

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—When a University of Wyoming coed lets her best boy friend hang his fraternity pin on her, they had better mean they're really engaged.

County Atty. Lynn Rees discovered a Wyoming law which says only a man's mother, daughter, sister or the girl he's engaged to may wear his fraternity pin.

Rees said so far he knows the law has never been enforced.

"There's not enough room in our jail," he added.

Jap Bath House Chiefs Call Off Their Lockout

TOKYO (AP)—Faced with a share-the - bathtub movement to keep Tokyo residents clean, owners of the city's 2,400 public bath houses have called off a lockout scheduled to begin today.

The owners accepted the government's ruling that they can raise the price of a bath only one yen—¼ cent.

A wash in a public bathhouse now will cost 16 yen—4.3 cents. The owners wanted a two-yen increase.

Some Rare 'Tricks' Develop During Trick or Treat Era

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some rare "tricks" developed over the nation during the Halloween "trick or treat" season.

In Albuquerque, N. M., the tame new generation somehow hasn't quite got the idea behind "trick or treat."

"I guess you'll have to trick, I'm out of treats," apologized Mrs. Melba Holmes to a 9-year-old goblin. She prepared for the worst.

The little spook there upon stood on his head on the widewalk.

In Anna, Ill., Patrolman Oley Toler, out to prevent Halloween vandalism, rounded up a basket full of soap from Anna youngsters attempting to soap windows.

He said he got a peck of soap, but Magistrate R. E. Plott surmised that Toler missed some when he observed that "you can't see through half the windows in Anna."

In Detroit, 5-year-old Charles Hyder demanded "trick or treat" of John Calamarus, 69, a fruit stand operator.

Then, according to Charles' parents, Calamarus decided he would neither trick or treat. They said he pulled a .38 caliber pistol on young Charlie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyder Sr. said they watched through a window as their son entered the fruit stand on his Halloween rounds. They said Calamarus waved a pistol at the child and called him "bad names."

Calamarus denied threatening Charles with a pistol. He said Charles and a group of other children had demanded more candy than he cared to give them.

No charges were placed against the fruit stand operator.

In Dallas, Halloween brought a trick which also was a treat for Mrs. Bill DeSanders. It's also her wedding anniversary, and the gift from her husband was a small broom of gold and diamonds inscribed: "To my favorite witch."

This Wife Surely Needs Some Help

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sympathetic State Conservation Department workers responded quickly when they got this letter from a Bay City hunter:

"Dear Sirs:

"I would like to ask you for the department's game bird recipe book. You see, my wife doesn't know how to cook. She cooked the bird I shot yesterday with the feathers and insides still in it. Boy, did that taste lousy.

"If you would, please send that book and please hurry. I am going hunting tomorrow. Send the book to my wife."

Flu Continues Unabated; School Absenteeism Mounts

Absenteeism, apparently due to the flu, increased, in some cases sharply, in all schools throughout the county Friday.

The New Martinsburg school is hardest hit, with absenteeism at 37.5 per cent of enrollment. The school reopened Thursday after being closed since Monday. Exactly one-third of the students were away from their desks Thursday.

"Only at the Chaffin school are we encountering teacher absence difficulty," Miami Trace Superintendent Walter W. Boyer said. "We had planned to reopen Chaffin Friday, but three teachers are still ill and we could get no replacements. If the teachers recover, or if we can get substitute teachers, we will reopen Monday." Chaffin closed Tuesday.

Boyer reported that throughout the other schools of the system, teacher illness is not a problem.

"As recommended by the Health Department," he said, "we will keep all our schools open as long as we can."

In the city school system Friday, the story was much the same. Superintendent W. A. Smith reported absenteeism at 20.7 per cent. Thursday's absentees accounted for 18.6 per cent of the enrollment. Overall, 469 students were away from their desks Friday. Thursday's total was 87 less, or 382.

* * *

THE LARGEST JUMP in absences in the city system was at Central. Thursday 89 pupils were absent, Friday's total is 106. Other city schools, reported absenteeism as follows: Cherry Hill, 36 absent Friday, 10 more than Thursday; Eastside, 55 absent Friday, one more than Thursday; Rose Avenue, 71 away Friday, 55 Thursday; Sunnyside, 50 absent Friday, seven more than Thursday, and the high school, 135 absent Friday, four more than Thursday.

He said he got a peck of soap, but Magistrate R. E. Plott surmised that Toler missed some when he observed that "you can't see through half the windows in Anna."

In Detroit, 5-year-old Charles Hyder demanded "trick or treat" of John Calamarus, 69, a fruit stand operator.

Then, according to Charles' parents, Calamarus decided he would neither trick or treat. They said he pulled a .38 caliber pistol on young Charlie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyder Sr. said they watched through a window as their son entered the fruit stand on his Halloween rounds. They said Calamarus waved a pistol at the child and called him "bad names."

Calamarus denied threatening Charles with a pistol. He said Charles and a group of other children had demanded more candy than he cared to give them.

No charges were placed against the fruit stand operator.

In Dallas, Halloween brought a trick which also was a treat for Mrs. Bill DeSanders. It's also her wedding anniversary, and the gift from her husband was a small broom of gold and diamonds inscribed: "To my favorite witch."

Oregon Debating Size of Tax Cut

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—The two houses of the Oregon state legislature, called into special session to deal with an expected $74 million tax surplus, are unable to agree on how much taxes should be cut.

Thursday the Democratic-dominated House of Representatives voted 33-26 for Democratic Gov. Robert D. Holmes' program of cutting income taxes 10 per cent and increasing the basic school support fund from the present $95 per child a year to $105.

The bill then went to the Senate tax committee which approved the school fund plan but voted much larger tax cuts.

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sympathetic State Conservation Department workers responded quickly when they got this letter from a Bay City hunter:

"Dear Sirs:

"I would like to ask you for the department's game bird recipe book. You see, my wife doesn't know how to cook. She cooked the bird I shot yesterday with the feathers and insides still in it. Boy, did that taste lousy.

"If you would, please send that book and please hurry. I am going hunting tomorrow. Send the book to my wife."

Queen Convinced Of Strong U. S. Tie

Written by Prime Minister Macmillan's Cabinet in accordance with tradition, the speech largely reviewed the government's foreign, commonwealth and domestic policy of the last 12 months.

Former Sabina Power Plant Swept by Fire

SABINA — Only the roofless skeleton of the former Sabina power plant remained at dawn Friday after fire swept through the abandoned building about two hours after midnight.

The flames were discovered about 2:30 a. m. by Berman Wynkoop, who lives nearby. He said the roof was ablaze then and that he could see fire inside the building.

Because the flames had such a start before discovered, the fire was out of control by the time the village's volunteer fire department equipment arrived within a short time after the alarm had been sounded by Wynkoop.

A little more than an hour after it was discovered, the fire had virtually burned itself out. Only the brick walls remained. The roof was gone, a mass of charred debris that had collapsed and crashed down inside the walls.

There was little else to burn. Most of the floor was concrete, but that part which was of wood and a few doors added to the blaze.

Flu Continues Unabated; School Absenteeism Mounts

Absenteeism, apparently due to the flu, increased, in some cases sharply, in all schools throughout the county Friday.

The New Martinsburg school is hardest hit, with absenteeism at 37.5 per cent of enrollment. The school reopened Thursday after being closed since Monday. Exactly one-third of the students were away from their desks Thursday.

"Only at the Chaffin school are we encountering teacher absence difficulty," Miami Trace Superintendent Walter W. Boyer said. "We had planned to reopen Chaffin Friday, but three teachers are still ill and we could get no replacements. If the teachers recover, or if we can get substitute teachers, we will reopen Monday." Chaffin closed Tuesday.

Boyer reported that throughout the other schools of the system, teacher illness is not a problem. "As recommended by the Health Department," he said, "we will keep all our schools open as long as we can."

In the city school system Friday, the story was much the same. Superintendent W. A. Smith reported absenteeism at 20.7 per cent. Thursday's absentees accounted for 18.6 per cent of the enrollment. Overall, 469 students were away from their desks Friday. Thursday's total was 87 less, or 382.

* * *

THE LARGEST JUMP in absences in the city system was at Central. Thursday 89 pupils were absent, Friday's total is 106. Other city schools, reported absenteeism as follows: Cherry Hill, 36 absent Friday, 10 more than Thursday; Eastside, 55 absent Friday, one more than Thursday; Rose Avenue, 71 away Friday, 55 Thursday; Sunnyside, 50 absent Friday, seven more than Thursday, and the high school, 135 absent Friday, four more than Thursday.

schools, outside of New Martinsburg, was Staunton which reports the second highest absenteeism, and also the greatest jump in absentes since Thursday. Friday's absentees counted for 31.6 per cent of the entire enrollment. That is nearly double the absentees Thursday (17.6 per cent), Bloomingburg had 26 per cent absent Friday, while Thursday's percentage was 22.9 Jeffersonville reported overall absenteeism of 23 per cent Friday. The elementary school had 26.6 per cent of its students absent, and the high school had 19.4 per cent absent. Thursday Jeffersonville reported overall absenteeism of 18 per cent. The elementary system had 21 per cent absent and the high school had 16 per cent absent.

* * *

THOSE SCHOOLS reporting absentees at around 20 per cent of their enrollment were: Milledgeville, 21.5 per cent students and one cook absent Friday, an increase of only one-half of one per cent from Thursday; Wilson 21 per cent Friday, an increase from 17 per cent Thursday; Bookwalter 20.5 per cent absent, increased from 16.3 per cent Thursday; Wayne, 20 per cent absent, increased from 18.9 Thursday; Eber, 20 per cent, increased from 14.4 per cent Thursday; Madison Mills, 20 per cent absent, plus one teacher, over Thursday's 19.6 absenteeism, and Marion, 20.2 per cent absent Friday, an increase from 18.9 per cent absent Thursday.

Dr. B. V. D. Scott, Fayette County health commissioner, warned Friday against returning to normal activities too quickly after suffering from the flu. He said that "some complications" are being observed and recommended that normal activities not be resumed after a flu bout until three or four days after the patient's temperature returns to normal.

All those suffering from flu-like infection, Dr. Scott recommended, should be under the care of a physician and should follow that physician's recommendations before resuming normal activities.

the Dayton Power & Light Co., said. He said the loss could not be estimated immediately.

The building was abandoned as a power plant about two months ago when the Sabina-owned utility was purchased by the Dayton Power & Light Co. The old equipment had not been removed, but the building was not used.

Druley said he did not believe the fire was caused by vandalism. Indications were it started either in the basement or on the first floor from a still unknown cause.

The building and ground on which it stands is owned by the village of Sabina. The equipment is owned by DP&L.

What will be done with the building remains uncertain. There had been considerable talk, after the power plant was sold, of trying to interest some industry to locate there. Several civic leaders were of the opinion that, if the walls were not weakened by the fire, this is still a possibility.

Dr. B. V. D. Scott, Fayette County health commissioner, warned Friday against returning to normal activities too quickly after suffering from the flu. He said that "some complications" are being observed and recommended that normal activities not be resumed after a flu bout until three or four days after the patient's temperature returns to normal.

All those suffering from flu-like infection, Dr. Scott recommended, should be under the care of a physician and should follow that physician's recommendations before resuming normal activities.

Fire at Sabina

the Dayton Power & Light Co., said. He said the loss could not be estimated immediately.

The building was abandoned as a power plant about two months ago when the Sabina-owned utility was purchased by the Dayton Power & Light Co. The old equipment had not been removed, but the building was not used.

Druley said he did not believe the fire was caused by vandalism. Indications were it started either in the basement or on the first floor from a still unknown cause.

The building and ground on which it stands is owned by the village of Sabina. The equipment is owned by DP&L.

What will be done with the building remains uncertain. There had been considerable talk, after the power plant was sold, of trying to interest some industry to locate there. Several civic leaders were of the opinion that, if the walls were not weakened by the fire, this is still a possibility.

Ice Cream Stolen At Locker Plant

Burglars— possibly youngsters— took an undetermined amount of ice cream and other frozen food in a break-in at the Girton Frozen Food Locker Plant, 604 Rose Ave., some time after 9 p. m. Thursday.

PEACE ON THIS PART OF EARTH—The UN, the Soviet and various others may be in a stew over possibility of warfare along the Turkish-Syria border, but this part of the border looks peaceful enough. You're on the Turkish side, looking into Syria. Guards are Turk. Beyond, a family walks borderward, and a truckload of what appears to be sacks of grain is moving. (International)

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

One does not have far to travel in Fayette County to see a herd of purebred cattle, sheep or hogs. And, of course, there are quite a few blooded horses still in the community.

Blooded livestock of all kinds is nothing new in the county. For more than 100 years purebred livestock has been one of the fundamentals of farming in the community.

During the days when there were 5,000 to 12,000 horses in the county, much attention was given to pure strains of the various types of horses, whether it was race horses, drivers, general utility or heavy draft horses. Many breeders took great pride in raising the best and selecting the top product year after year to propogate the species.

Cattle, hogs and sheep of pure strains always appealed to many farmers in the community; so has purebred poultry of all kinds.

Growing the pure breeds was not confined to livestock, but extended to corn and other grain, and corn in particular.

Some of the finest livestock of all kinds the world has ever seen, has come from Fayette County, and today the number of registered livestock in the community is probably greater than ever before.

Pedigreed dogs and cats in the county also have won a prominent place in the world.

The first $10,000 hog in the county was some 55 years ago, and that price attracted widespread attention at the time. I refer to the Poland China boar "Sunshine" owned by J. M. Klever of Paint Township. The boar died on the Klever farm and was buried there.

CARTS WERE POPULAR

One of the most popular horse-drawn vehicles in this community up to 30 or 40 years ago was the two wheeled cart.

Because these high-wheeled carts were easily pulled through mud and over the ground generally, they were used extensively for infrequent trips to the nearest town for groceries and other necessities.

The wheels were usually 4 to 4½ feet in diameter so they could negotiate deep mud without being too much of a burden for the faithful old horse.

The carts were built with slat baskets for the feet and for any articles that might be hauled in them. The entire vehicle was lightweight.

These carts could be pulled over bad roads where it was difficult for a horse to draw a four wheeled vehicle, even as light as a spring wagon.

The carts also were the poor man's friend, for they cost little and formed a means of travel that was very inexpensive.

I wonder if anyone in the county has one of these old time carts stored away?

• • •

MANY BOATS IN COUNTY

There are a surprisingly large number of outboard motor boats in the county now, most of them having been purchased since Rocky Fork Lake was opened. During the boating period, each Sunday and sometimes in-between, the boats are hauled to the lake where the owners enjoy dashes over the water.

During the next few years, I expect to see the number of boats doubled and trebled as more and more lovers of the sport buy the outboards or other type of small boats to be used on any body of water of sufficient depth, length and width for good boating.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Three miles of city streets were blacktopped during year, and 50,000 square feet of concrete sidewalk laid under the WPA program. Abutting property owners paid half of cost.

A bitter fight was raging for acquisition of the water works by the city, with water company and committee of five opposing the project, which was to wipe out $40,000 indebtedness and lower water rates 10 percent.

Guy Huffman finished third in state corn husking contest after having won first in Fayette County.

Ninety six horsemen attended banquet and organized Fayette County Horsemen's Assn.

Federal Court in Cincinnati was to try Earl Holt, 26, on charge of robbing Good Hope Bank.

Seven carloads of old wooden cannon wheels passed through city en route to Portsmouth to be destroyed.

Thirty men were engaged in the WPA project of clearing channel of Rattlesnake Creek, using a dredge line scoop for part of the work.

C. F. Highley's dairy and horse barn burned on his farm a mile west of the city, with loss of $10 to $12,000.

In drilling for water for the waterworks at Jeffersonville Harry Parrett's drill passed through 15 feet of quicksand and stuck bedrock at 55.5 feet.

Bankruptcy Ban Plan Given OK

CINCINNATI (AP)—U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel has approved a plan to lift a "freeze" on 50 pieces of property and resell it in an effort to prevent a threatened $2 million bankruptcy against Kash D. Amburgy, South Lebanon builder.

Joseph L. Osberger, court - appointed receiver for Amburgy, told Judge Druffel an agreement has been reached by which home buyers would be released from debt to Amburgy and be allowed to transfer their debt to a building and loan association which will write new mortgages.

OSU Building Bids Far Below Estimate

COLUMBUS (AP) — The apparent low bids for various phases of construction of a chemical engineering building at Ohio State University are $406,378 under state estimates, the Department of Public Works said today.

The bids for the four-story building due to be finished in early 1959 totaled $1,700,718. Baker & Coombs, Inc., of Morgantown, W. Va., apparently was the lowest bidder for the general construction contract at $898,900. The state estimate for that phase of the work was $1,250,663. The estimate for the entire job: $2,167,096.

New Gas Line Being Laid North of Here

Work of wrapping and laying an Ohio Fuel Gas Co. main from west of Mt. Sterling to connect with an existing main about a mile north of Bloomingburg is progressing rapidly.

The present main, with which the new one will join, is on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jefferson. It supplies gas for Washington C. H., Bloomingburg Greenfield, Sabina and Wilmington.

Thursday afternoon, the new main had been laid as far as the Freddie LeBeau farm on the White Oak Rd. This phase of the work is proceeding at about a mile a day.

The ditcher had reached a point west of the former Jones school house and welding had been completed to near where the ditch-cutting machine is at work.

The line parallels Jones Rd. from the White Oak Rd. to near the Jones school house. The lin is 200 to 400 years west of the Jones Rd.

It is expected the new line will be connected with the existing main and gas turned through it sometime early in December.

The new connecting line is designed to increase the supply of gas to this and other cities on the present line.

A REPLY TO
Misrepresentation!

WE NEED MEN ON OUR BOARDS OF EDUCATION WHO HAVE GOOD QUALIFICATIONS AND SOUND INTEGRITY.

We do not want a board member who states before an official meeting of the Educational Committee of the Ohio House of Representatives in April, 1957, that the Miami Trace Board had been and would continue to operate into the foreseeable future with only 10 mills of taxation for operational purposes and then, a few weeks later, he and the other Board members asked that a 20% increase (2 mills) be imposed on the people of the Miami Trace District.

We do not want a board member who not only misrepresents his position with a respected fraternal organization but tries to have one of his fellow citizens fired from his job because he voices opposing sentiments on our school problems. The candidate for office wrote to the employer of a Fayette County citizen and advised the employer of the stand taken by its employee on our school problems. The employer made the following reply to the candidate's letter:

Mr. J. Herbert Perrill
Ohio State Grange
Route 3
Washington Court House, Ohio

Dear Mr. Perrill:
It was thoughtful of you to write us about your feelings toward the stand our Mr. ..... has taken in your school controversy. We recognize the fact that some of the nation's most bitter feuds have resulted from disagreements over school elections or school policies. All of us agree that the future of America is indeed bright as long as thinking folks can be stirred up over educational problems.

Needless to say, your letter puts us in a very difficult position. If Mr. ..... were representing the ..... Manufacturing Company and voicing our company views in this matter, we would, of course, indicate quickly what this company's stand must be. Apparently from your letter, however, Mr. ..... is not representing himself as speaking for the ..... Manufacturing Company but he is rather presenting the views of ....., American Citizen.

As an American citizen, any man has a right to use any peaceable, honorable means at his command to influence folks to see vital issues as he does. All of us are thrilled with the fact that in America a man can get a soap box and scream his head off about anything (as long as he can get an audience) without being molested by anyone. I believe you will agree that having fought for these freedoms for over 180 years, no one, including a man's employer, can take them away from him.

It is our company's intention to employ only honorable folks. We expect our employees to conduct themselves in a gentlemanly manner. At the same time, we admire a man who is willing to fight for what he thinks is right.

Mr. ..... knows something about the price at which American freedom is preserved. In World War II he was an airplane pilot. He flew goods and men over the Hump, the most perilous air route in the world, with the Air Transport Command. The stand this man may take on your local educational issues may be unwise but it is his right and privilege as an American to take any stand he chooses. We earnestly hope that it will always be so.

If our employee is conducting himself dishonorably, if his motives are only those of stirring trouble, he, of course, then loses his value as an employee and forfeits his right to be a member of our organization. Unless we have some proof that the integrity of this man has disappeared, I believe you will agree that we, as a company, should not interfere with his convictions or his activities regarding these issues.

You folks are our good customers. We appreciate the opportunity to serve you. We want to serve you fairly and honestly in all ways. We believe, too, that you will respect us only if we are just in dealing both with our customers and our employees.

If, for any reason, I have misunderstood your letter or your report of the activities of Mr. ....., it would be a great favor to this company if you would write us again.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

One does not have far to travel in Fayette County to see a herd of purebred cattle, sheep or hogs. And, of course, there are quite a few blooded horses still in the community.

Blooded livestock of all kinds is nothing new in the county. For more than 100 years purebred livestock has been one of the fundamentals of farming in the community.

During the days when there were 5,000 to 12,000 horses in the county, much attention was given to pure strains of the various types of horses, whether it was race horses, drivers, general utility or heavy draft horses. Many breeders took great pride in raising the best and selecting the top product year after year to propogate the species.

Cattle, hogs and sheep of pure strains always appealed to many farmers in the community; so has purebred poultry of all kinds.

Growing the pure breeds was not confined to livestock, but extended to corn and other grain, and corn in particular.

Some of the finest livestock of all kinds the world has ever seen, has come from Fayette County, and today the number of registered livestock in the community is probably greater than ever before.

Pedigreed dogs and cats in the county also have won a prominent place in the world.

The first $10,000 hog in the county was some 55 years ago, and that price attracted widespread attention at the time. I refer to the Poland China boar "Sunshine" owned by J. M. Klever of Paint Township. The boar died on the Klever farm and was buried there.

CARTS WERE POPULAR

One of the most popular horse-drawn vehicles in this community up to 30 or 40 years ago was the two wheeled cart.

Because these high-wheeled carts were easily pulled through mud and over the ground generally, they were used extensively for infrequent trips to the nearest town for groceries and other necessities.

The wheels were usually 4 to 4½ feet in diameter so they could negotiate deep mud without being too much of a burden for the faithful old horse.

The carts were built with slat baskets for the feet and for any articles that might be hauled in them. The entire vehicle was lightweight.

These carts could be pulled over bad roads where it was difficult for a horse to draw a four wheeled vehicle, even as light as a spring wagon.

The carts also were the poor man's friend, for they cost little and formed a means of travel that was very inexpensive.

I wonder if anyone in the county has one of these old time carts stored away?

• • •

MANY BOATS IN COUNTY

There are a surprisingly large number of outboard motor boats in the county now, most of them having been purchased since Rocky Fork Lake was opened. During the boating period, each Sunday and sometimes in-between, the boats are hauled to the lake where the owners enjoy dashes over the water.

During the next few years, I expect to see the number of boats doubled and trebled as more and more lovers of the sport buy the outboards or other type of small boats to be used on any body of water of sufficient depth, length and width for good boating.

Bankruptcy Ban Plan Given OK

CINCINNATI (AP)—U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel has approved a plan to lift a "freeze" on 50 pieces of property and resell it in an effort to prevent a threatened $2 million bankruptcy against Kash D. Amburgy, South Lebanon builder.

Joseph L. Osberger, court - appointed receiver for Amburgy, told Judge Druffel an agreement has been reached by which home buyers would be released from debt to Amburgy and be allowed to transfer their debt to a building and loan association which will write new mortgages.

OSU Building Bids Far Below Estimate

COLUMBUS (AP) — The apparent low bids for various phases of construction of a chemical engineering building at Ohio State University are $406,378 under state estimates, the Department of Public Works said today.

The bids for the four-story building due to be finished in early 1959 totaled $1,700,718. Baker & Coombs, Inc., of Morgantown, W. Va., apparently was the lowest bidder for the general construction contract at $898,900. The state estimate for that phase of the work was $1,250,663. The estimate for the entire job: $2,167,096.

New Gas Line Being Laid North of Here

Work of wrapping and laying an Ohio Fuel Gas Co. main from west of Mt. Sterling to connect with an existing main about a mile north of Bloomingburg is progressing rapidly.

The present main, with which the new one will join, is on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jefferson. It supplies gas for Washington C. H., Bloomingburg Greenfield, Sabina and Wilmington.

Thursday afternoon, the new main had been laid as far as the Freddie LeBeau farm on the White Oak Rd. This phase of the work is proceeding at about a mile a day.

The ditcher had reached a point west of the former Jones school house and welding had been completed to near where the ditch-cutting machine is at work.

The line parallels Jones Rd. from the White Oak Rd. to near the Jones school house. The lin is 200 to 400 years west of the Jones Rd.

It is expected the new line will be connected with the existing main and gas turned through it sometime early in December.

The new connecting line is designed to increase the supply of gas to this and other cities on the present line.

A REPLY TO

Misrepresentation!

WE NEED MEN ON OUR BOARDS OF EDUCATION WHO HAVE GOOD QUALIFICATIONS AND SOUND INTEGRITY.

We do not want a board member who states before an official meeting of the Educational Committee of the Ohio House of Representatives in April, 1957, that the Miami Trace Board had been and would continue to operate into the foreseeable future with only 10 mills of taxation for operational purposes and then, a few weeks later, he and the other Board members asked that a 20% increase (2 mills) be imposed on the people of the Miami Trace District.

We do not want a board member who not only misrepresents his position with a respected fraternal organization but tries to have one of his fellow citizens fired from his job because he voices opposing sentiments on our school problems. The candidate for office wrote to the employer of a Fayette County citizen and advised the employer of the stand taken by its employee on our school problems. The employer made the following reply to the candidate's letter:

March 7, 1957

Mr. J. Herbert Perrill
Ohio State Grange
Route 3
Washington Court House, Ohio

Dear Mr. Perrill:
It was thoughtful of you to write us about your feelings toward the stand our Mr. ..... has taken in your school controversy. We recognize the fact that some of the nation's most bitter feuds have resulted from disagreements over school elections or school policies. All of us agree that the future of America is indeed bright as long as thinking folks can be stirred up over educational problems.

Needless to say, your letter puts us in a very difficult position. If Mr. ..... were representing the ..... Manufacturing Company and voicing our company views in this matter, we would, of course, indicate quickly what this company's stand must be. Apparently from your letter, however, Mr. ..... is not representing himself as speaking for the ..... Manufacturing Company but he is rather presenting the views of ....., American Citizen.

As an American citizen, any man has a right to use any peaceable, honorable means at his command to influence folks to see vital issues as he does. All of us are thrilled with the fact that in America a man can get a soap box and scream his head off about anything (as long as he can get an audience) without being molested by anyone. I believe you will agree that having fought for these freedoms for over 180 years, no one, including a man's employer, can take them away from him.

It is our company's intention to employ only honorable folks. We expect our employees to conduct themselves in a gentlemanly manner. At the same time, we admire a man who is willing to fight for what he thinks is right.

Mr. ..... knows something about the price at which American freedom is preserved. In World War II he was an airplane pilot. He flew goods and men over the Hump, the most perilous air route in the world, with the Air Transport Command. The stand this man may take on your local educational issues may be unwise but it is his right and privilege as an American to take any stand he chooses. We earnestly hope that it will always be so.

If our employee is conducting himself dishonorably, if his motives are only those of stirring trouble, he, of course, then loses his value as an employee and forfeits his right to be a member of our organization. Unless we have some proof that the integrity of this man has disappeared, I believe you will agree that we, as a company, should not interfere with his convictions or his activities regarding these issues.

You folks are our good customers. We appreciate the opportunity to serve you. We want to serve you fairly and honestly in all ways. We believe, too, that you will respect us only if we are just in dealing both with our customers and our employees.

Room For Improvement In Civil Defense

Fayette County people and others who in past weeks have been inclined to worry over the Russian launching of its earth satellite "Sputnik," along with hints of air attacks and powerful intercontinental rocket missiles, were somewhat reassurred some days ago by Ohio's state civil defense chief, Gen. Leo M. Kreber.

This official said that Ohio's warning system against types of bomber air attack, is one of the best in the nation.

He further indicated however that he believes, as a result of rapid development in long - range missiles, there must come a "change in our thinking."

He further reported that officials at Washington D. C. are still of the belief that evacuation of major target areas is the best means of reducing civilian casualties in an emergency.

However he indicates a belief that plans to clear industrialized metropolitan centers are out of date; missiles could reduce warning time to minutes instead of hours.

That Ohio is reasonably well protected as to warnings of any attack, he points to our state's warning systems linked directly with radar belts across northern Canada and other preparations for knowledge of hostile action long before this state could actually be reached by bomber weapons.

The fact that civil defense leaders in Washington continue to talk about moving Americans away from potential nuclear bombing zones illustrates just how unavailing is the U. S. home-front preparedness program. Millions have been spent to construct a radar "fence" about the nation; to erect sky - watch towers and install siren warnings; to stage mock air raids; to instruct local civil defense teams in marshalling local police and fire-fighting reserves in time of crisis. But so far as Americans generally are concerned, civil defense preparations are far behind what they ought to be.

Ohioans may have the best warning system in country, but it is probable that not one Ohioan in a thousand has the foggiest notion about what to do should enemy bombers or missiles cross state borders. Gen. Kreber is right in questioning Civil Defense policies in Washington. The idea of evacuating the nation's industrial communities is absurd. The present highway system is hardly able to serve normal traffic needs, much less a flood of vehicles driven in panic to escape atomic bombardment.

Civil Defense people have serious problems. Americans are not much concerned by the possibility of aerial attack. But their apathy is understandable. No one in Washington seems too upset about the possibility either.

Why Live in New York City?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The question a New Yorker gets asked most often is, "Why, in Heaven's name, do you want to live here?"

Since most New Yorkers seem to come from out of town, they sometimes ask themselves the same question.

They have to agree that most of the stock criticisms made by visitors are true:

"It's just too crowded, noisy and dirty. Everybody is in a hurry to get nowhere. It makes me tired just to watch the pace at which people go here. They don't even have time to be polite."

Ralph Waldo Emerson, down on a slumming trip from cultured New England, described New York crisply as "a sucked orange." Thomas Jefferson in 1823 wrote that "New York, like London, seems to be a cloacina (or sewer) of all the depravities of human nature."

In 1872 the English novelist Anthony Trollope wrote, "Speaking of New York as a traveler, I find there is nothing to see, and there is no mode of getting about to see anything."

It is still true that traffic in Manhattan is so bad it is impossible to get anywhere in a hurry unless you call an ambulance. But it is no longer true there is nothing to see here.

There is everything to see here now. In the mid-twentieth century, New York City reigns as the earth's greatest metropolis, a cultural and financial mecca for all the world. If you have a talent of any kind, a product of almost any kind, here is your greatest show window and market place.

The reason most people come to live in New York is in the hope of making a bigger buck. They generally do. Even the smallest talent is rewarded higher here than in most other cities.

But there are other things that make New York attractive. It is a city where people will let you alone, and the neighbors aren't nosey. You can live as you want to in peace—that is, if you can afford to.

Whatever you want to eat you can find here, whatever you want to see is here. Like a perpetual circus there is always something going on.

Chicago, the nation's second city, is notoriously jealous of New York. But a New Yorker doesn't feel that way about Chicago. He just doesn't think of any other city being in the same league. To him, as Bugs Baer so aptly put it, any other place "is Bridgeport."

Although this attitude is maddening to citizens from other cities, the typical New Yorker is actually neither smug nor sophisticated. He is an easy victim for all kinds of con men, and seems to enjoy being conned.

"If there ever was an aviary overstocked with jays," wrote O. Henry, a Texan who made this town his own, "it is that yaptown on-the-Hudson called New York.

"What else can you expect from a town that's shut off from the world by the ocean on one side and New Jersey on the other?"

Living for Duty--a Noble Thing

By George Sokolsky

It is interesting to note the reactions to the Queen's visit to this country. Perhaps most startling is the physical load which she takes in her stride.

She had to walk miles each day, shaking hands with folks, reviewing this and that, never looking tired or weary or irked. Her feet must have hurt as Mother's used to after a day of cooking and baking and washing and hanging out clothes.

One writer had this to say:

"Still, who would like to spend every day from nine in the morning until midnight walking among strangers, smiling at strangers, asking— in a regal, but nonetheless suppliant way— to be liked?

"Nobody would like it."

The answer, of course, is that neither the Queen nor Philip was bored. They were doing their duty. It is the same as a doctor who vaccinates a school of children. He is not bored; he is doing his duty.

It is like a sea captain who stands on the bridge of his ship working through the night during a storm and perhaps throughout the next day, as long as the storm lasts, doing his duty.

It is the same as a teacher of mathematics, year after year showing youngsters the same theorems, hoping that one of them will be bright. He is doing his duty.

If to be liked is to save one's country in a distressing moment of history; then that is the task which duty requires. The British, the Dutch, the Japanese have been blessed by royal families that have this enormous sense of duty and who never betray it.

For instance, for 2,000 years the Emperor of Japan was aloof, even from his own people. The Son of Heaven, unapproachable, turned democratic and almost plebian, when Gen. MacArthur ruled Japan and the Emperor was cajoling the United States and its allies to give Japan its freedom. That is duty, carried out as a soldier lays down his life for his country; sometimes, it is harder to give up one's pride than one's life.

I watched the Queen and Philip when they were in New York. The pace was unbelievable. Every moment of the day was occupied and each task was accepted with a smile.

The mayor's luncheon in the ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria was one of the most delightful affairs this city has ever witnessed. The Queen sat between Herbert Hoover and Mayor Robert F. Wagner and divided her time equally. When she spoke, her voice, her enunciation were clear and friendly and everybody liked her. Commissioner Richard Patterson Jr. manages such affairs with extraordinary ability and rarely gets any credit for good taste. Nevertheless, I should imagine that the Queen realized how much good taste and friendliness went into that reception.

I watched the Queen on television at the ball given by British societies in an armory building which contained about 4,000 persons and where the Queen went through ceremonials and visiting with veterans.

She was so physically beautful on this occasion that she radiated joy and kindliness and on television it was possible to see every feature of both the Queen and Philip and certainly those who report them to be stuffy and tweedy could not have seen them under these trying circumstances, under klieg lights and in the heat of an enormous crowd, up to midnight—and later—meeting every exigency of public appearance with the aplomb of professionals.

That is their job and they take its spiritual and physical strains in their stride. One learned of little things behind the scenes: the frank expressions of gratitude to those who helped make the visit a success; the recognition by Prince Philip of the fact that Americans will wonder why he is so offish in press interviews and such, they, the Americans, not knowing that constitutionally he has no place in the order of things, that he is not even Prince Consort and that he has to avoid comments about anything that might be worth quoting. It is a position which he accepted when he married the Queen and which he carries out to the letter, although I am told by those who know him that he is naturally a good fellow, easy to get along with.

Surely living for duty is nobler than living for applause or night club popularity.

Feet Hurt? They May Have One of 50 Ills

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When anyone mentions foot trouble, you naturally think of corns, bunions, flat feet, athlete's foot and maybe ingrown nails.

However, this list barley scratches the surface. There are actually more than 50 foot aflictions. You might be susceptible to many if not most of them.

Even though at least 80 per cent of our children under the age of 14 have some sort of foot trouble, the picture isn't as dark as it may seem. A full 80 per cent of the nation's foot ills can be prevented with a little thought and care.

The National Foot Health Council has compiled a list of ten basic rules which, if followed, can do a lot to keep your feet healthy. Let me pass these suggestions on to you with a few of my own added here and there.

1. Bathe your feet at least once every day. Scrub them with a soft brush to remove the dead skin. Dry them thoroughly and use foot powder afterward.

2. Don't wear the same shoes or stockings two days in succession. Change your socks or stockings at least once a day.

3. Cut your toenails straight across and not shorter than the flesh.

4. Wear all-leather shoes, both soles and uppers. Pick the right shoe for the right occasion. (I'll have more to say about the correct type of shoes to wear in a future column.)

5. Be sure your shoes are of the proper size and last. Your stockings should be at least half an inch longer than your longest toe

6. Your feet have muscles, too, so limber them up once in a while with the following exercises.

Wriggle your toes with your shoes off, elevate your feet to stimulate circulation. Try picking up a pencil with your toes or stand on a book and bend your toes over the edge.

7. Don't get your feet wet needlessly. If they do get wet from perspiration or from some other cause, dry them and change your shoes and socks as soon as possible.

8. Cultivate good posture. Your feet should be pointed straight ahead for proper walking.

9. Examine your children and yourself periodically for any foot troubles or poorly fitting shoes.

10. Don't be a "bathroom surgeon." If your feet need attention, consult your family physician. a chiropodist or a podiatrist.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q. T.: My child has had frequent sore throats and tonsilitis. When would you advise me to have his tonsils removed?

Answer: Your physician is the best judge as to whether or not the tonsils should be removed. If he thinks the procedure wise, it would be well to wait until the polio season is over, unless there is an emergency.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has penetrated the American Communist party. American spies overseas are having a tougher time behind the Iron Curtain.

As for the getting information on what goes on among the leaders of the Russian Communist party, President Eisenhower has indicated the best we can do is guess.

It's not news that the Central Intelligence Agency — this country's supersecret overseas spy organization — has trouble in the Communist world.

Two years ago a task force of the Hoover Commission—headed by Gen. Mark W. Clark—examined the CIA and expressed concern at the "lack of adequate intelligence data from behind the Iron Curtain."

What happened this week was a reminder the CIA is still having trouble.

For days the world—including the Eisenhower administration — has been wondering what is happening to Marshal Georgi Zhukov, who was riding high as Russia's defense minister and now suddenly has been knocked off his pedestal in the Kremlin hierarchy.

That may have been one of the reasons why Allen W. Dulles, director of the CIA, was included among 23 top government officials who conferred Thursday with Eisenhower, although he frequently attends such meetings of the National Security Council.

Eisenhower was reminded at his news conference Wednesday that some weeks ago he expressed the view Zhukov's position among the Russian leaders seemed greatly strengthened.

Then over last weekend Zhukov was suddenly—it seemed almost brutally—yanked out of his job as Russia's defense minister. And the Kremlin hasn't yet explained why or what is going to happen to Russia's wartime hero.

In view of what Eisenhower had said about Zhukov—followed by what happened to him—a reporter asked the President:

"I wonder if you could tell us whether you are satisfied whether the intelligence estimates you received about that (Zhukov's demotion) were quite adequate."

The President answered:

". . . Any effort to penetrate the Soviet mind, or at least the mind of the men in the Kremlin so determine their reasons for doing anything, is highly speculative and that is all it is.

"I don't think that any intelligence system can really give you a complete and positive answer on this."

He added that this country didn't know what had happened to Zhukov.

It's possible most of the Kremlin's top men didn't know either until Nikita Khrushchev, Russian Communist party boss, and his inner circle made the decision.

Election Day Liquor Sales Said Possible

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe has ruled the sale of intoxicating liquor on Election Day is not prohibited in townships and precincts in which the polls are closed.

Saxbe's opinion said "Election Days" are considered such only if an actual election is held on that day and if there is no issue before the voters there is no requirement to hold an election on that day.

The ruling went to Fred A. Leaders, acting director of the Department of Liquor Control, who requested the opinion after questions arose in the primary election last May 7.

Room For Improvement In Civil Defense

Fayette County people and others who in past weeks have been inclined to worry over the Russian launching of its earth satellite "Sputnik," along with hints of air attacks and powerful intercontinental rocket missiles, were somewhat reassurred some days ago by Ohio's state civil defense chief, Gen. Leo M. Kreber.

This official said that Ohio's warning system against types of bomber air attack, is one of the best in the nation.

He further indicated however that he believes, as a result of rapid development in long - range missiles, there must come a "change in our thinking."

He further reported that officials at Washington D. C. are still of the belief that evacuation of major target areas is the best means of reducing civilian casualties in an emergency.

However he indicates a belief that plans to clear industrialized metropolitan centers are out of date; missiles could reduce warning time to minutes instead of hours.

That Ohio is reasonably well protected as to warnings of any attack, he points to our state's warning systems linked directly with radar belts across northern Canada and other preparations for knowledge of hostile action long before this state could actually be reached by bomber weapons.

The fact that civil defense leaders in Washington continue to talk about moving Americans away from potential nuclear bombing zones illustrates just how unavailing is the U. S. home-front preparedness program. Millions have been spent to construct a radar "fence" about the nation; to erect sky - watch towers and install siren warnings; to stage mock air raids; to instruct local civil defense teams in marshalling local police and fire-fighting reserves in time of crisis. But so far as Americans generally are concerned, civil defense preparations are far behind what they ought to be.

Ohioans may have the best warning system in country, but it is probable that not one Ohioan in a thousand has the foggiest notion about what to do should enemy bombers or missiles cross state borders. Gen. Kreber is right in questioning Civil Defense policies in Washington. The idea of evacuating the nation's industrial communities is absurd. The present highway system is hardly able to serve normal traffic needs, much less a flood of vehicles driven in panic to escape atomic bombardment.

Civil Defense people have serious problems. Americans are not much concerned by the possibility of aerial attack. But their apathy is understandable. No one in Washington seems too upset about the possibility either.

Why Live in New York City?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The question a New Yorker gets asked most often is, "Why, in Heaven's name, do you want to live here?"

Since most New Yorkers seem to come from out of town, they sometimes ask themselves the same question.

They have to agree that most of the stock criticisms made by visitors are true:

"It's just too crowded, noisy and dirty. Everybody is in a hurry to get nowhere. It makes me tired just to watch the pace at which people go here. They don't even have time to be polite."

Ralph Waldo Emerson, down on a slumming trip from cultured New England, described New York crisply as "a sucked orange." Thomas Jefferson in 1823 wrote that "New York, like London, seems to be a cloacina (or sewer) of all the depravities of human nature."

In 1872 the English novelist Anthony Trollope wrote, "Speaking of New York as a traveler, I find there is nothing to see, and there is no mode of getting about to see anything."

It is still true that traffic in Manhattan is so bad it is impossible to get anywhere in a hurry unless you call an ambulance. But it is no longer true there is nothing to see here.

There is everything to see here now. In the mid-twentieth century, New York City reigns as the earth's greatest metropolis, a cultural and financial mecca for all the world. If you have a talent of any kind, a product of almost any kind, here is your greatest show window and market place.

The reason most people come to live in New York is in the hope of making a bigger buck. They generally do. Even the smallest talent is rewarded higher here than in most other cities.

But there are other things that make New York attractive. It is a city where people will let you alone, and the neighbors aren't nosey. You can live as you want to in peace—that is, if you can afford to.

Whatever you want to eat you can find here, whatever you want to see is here. Like a perpetual circus there is always something going on.

Chicago, the nation's second city, is notoriously jealous of New York. But a New Yorker doesn't feel that way about Chicago. He just doesn't think of any other city being in the same league. To him, as Bugs Baer so aptly put it, any other place "is Bridgeport."

Although this attitude is maddening to citizens from other cities, the typical New Yorker is actually neither smug nor sophisticated. He is an easy victim for all kinds of con men, and seems to enjoy being conned.

"If there ever was an aviary overstocked with jays," wrote O. Henry, a Texan who made this town his own, "it is that yaptown on-the-Hudson called New York.

"What else can you expect from a town that's shut off from the world by the ocean on one side and New Jersey on the other?"

Living for Duty--a Noble Thing

By George Sokolsky

It is interesting to note the reactions to the Queen's visit to this country. Perhaps most startling is the physical load which she takes in her stride.

She had to walk miles each day, shaking hands with folks, reviewing this and that, never looking tired or weary or irked. Her feet must have hurt as Mother's used to after a day of cooking and baking and washing and hanging out clothes.

One writer had this to say:

"Still, who would like to spend every day from nine in the morning until midnight walking among strangers, smiling at strangers, asking— in a regal, but nonetheless suppliant way— to be liked?

"Nobody would like it."

The answer, of course, is that neither the Queen nor Philip was bored. They were doing their duty. It is the same as a doctor who vaccinates a school of children. He is not bored; he is doing his duty.

It is like a sea captain who stands on the bridge of his ship working through the night during a storm and perhaps throughout the next day, as long as the storm lasts, doing his duty.

It is the same as a teacher of mathematics, year after year showing youngsters the same theorems, hoping that one of them will be bright. He is doing his duty.

If to be liked is to save one's country in a distressing moment of history; then that is the task which duty requires. The British, the Dutch, the Japanese have been blessed by royal families that have this enormous sense of duty and who never betray it.

For instance, for 2,000 years the Emperor of Japan was aloof, even from his own people. The Son of Heaven, unapproachable, turned democratic and almost plebian, when Gen. MacArthur ruled Japan and the Emperor was cajoling the United States and its allies to give Japan its freedom. That is duty, carried out as a soldier lays down his life for his country; sometimes, it is harder to give up one's pride than one's life.

I watched the Queen and Philip when they were in New York. The pace was unbelievable. Every moment of the day was occupied and each task was accepted with a smile.

The mayor's luncheon in the ballroom of the Waldorf Astoria was one of the most delightful affairs this city has ever witnessed. The Queen sat between Herbert Hoover and Mayor Robert F. Wagner and divided her time equally. When she spoke, her voice, her enunciation were clear and friendly and everybody liked her. Commissioner Richard Patterson Jr. manages such affairs with extraordinary ability and rarely gets any credit for good taste. Nevertheless, I should imagine that the Queen realized how much good taste and friendliness went into that reception.

I watched the Queen on television at the ball given by British societies in an armory building which contained about 4,000 persons and where the Queen went through ceremonials and visiting with veterans.

She was so physically beautful on this occasion that she radiated joy and kindliness and on television it was possible to see every feature of both the Queen and Philip and certainly those who report them to be stuffy and tweedy could not have seen them under these trying circumstances, under klieg lights and in the heat of an enormous crowd, up to midnight—and later—meeting every exigency of public appearance with the aplomb of professionals.

That is their job and they take its spiritual and physical strains in their stride. One learned of little things behind the scenes: the frank expressions of gratitude to those who helped make the visit a success; the recognition by Prince Philip of the fact that Americans will wonder why he is so offish in press interviews and such, they, the Americans, not knowing that constitutionally he has no place in the order of things, that he is not even Prince Consort and that he has to avoid comments about anything that might be worth quoting. It is a position which he accepted when he married the Queen and which he carries out to the letter, although I am told by those who know him that he is naturally a good fellow, easy to get along with.

Surely living for duty is nobler than living for applause or night club popularity.

NEWLY RICH COUPLE vacationed at a very swell seaside resort, and the wife was constantly afraid her husband was going to say or do something wrong. He was carried out too far by the undertow one morning and started bellowing "Help! Help!" The wife immediately yelled back, "Not so loud, you big ape!"

Big shot from Houston made a call from Atlantic City to New York, and kicked like a steer when he was asked to deposit 55 cents in the coin box. "Shucks, back home we can talk to hell and back for less than that," he protested. "Could be" allowed the operator, "but from Texas that's a local call."

At a business show, one secretary explained, "Get a load of this machine: it does the work of six men."

"Personally," said her friend, "I'd rather have the men."

Feet Hurt? They May Have One of 50 Ills

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

When anyone mentions foot trouble, you naturally think of corns, bunions, flat feet, athlete's foot and maybe ingrown nails.

However, this list barley scratches the surface. There are actually more than 50 foot aflictions. You might be susceptible to many if not most of them.

Even though at least 80 per cent of our children under the age of 14 have some sort of foot trouble, the picture isn't as dark as it may seem. A full 80 per cent of the nation's foot ills can be prevented with a little thought and care.

The National Foot Health Council has compiled a list of ten basic rules which, if followed, can do a lot to keep your feet healthy. Let me pass these suggestions on to you with a few of my own added here and there.

1. Bathe your feet at least once every day. Scrub them with a soft brush to remove the dead skin. Dry them thoroughly and use foot powder afterward.

2. Don't wear the same shoes or stockings two days in succession. Change your socks or stockings at least once a day.

3. Cut your toenails straight across and not shorter than the flesh.

4. Wear all-leather shoes, both soles and uppers. Pick the right shoe for the right occasion. (I'll have more to say about the correct type of shoes to wear in a future column.)

5. Be sure your shoes are of the proper size and last. Your stockings should be at least half an inch longer than your longest toe

6. Your feet have muscles, too, so limber them up once in a while with the following exercises.

Wriggle your toes with your shoes off, elevate your feet to stimulate circulation. Try picking up a pencil with your toes or stand on a book and bend your toes over the edge.

7. Don't get your feet wet needlessly. If they do get wet from perspiration or from some other cause, dry them and change your shoes and socks as soon as possible.

8. Cultivate good posture. Your feet should be pointed straight ahead for proper walking.

9. Examine your children and yourself periodically for any foot troubles or poorly fitting shoes.

10. Don't be a "bathroom surgeon." If your feet need attention, consult your family physician. a chiropodist or a podiatrist.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q. T.: My child has had frequent sore throats and tonsilitis. When would you advise me to have his tonsils removed?

Answer: Your physician is the best judge as to whether or not the tonsils should be removed. If he thinks the procedure wise, it would be well to wait until the polio season is over, unless there is an emergency.

Election Day Liquor Sales Said Possible

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. William Saxbe has ruled the sale of intoxicating liquor on Election Day is not prohibited in townships and precincts in which the polls are closed.

Saxbe's opinion said "Election Days" are considered such only if an actual election is held on that day and if there is no issue before the voters there is no requirement to hold an election on that day.

The ruling went to Fred A. Leaders, acting director of the Department of Liquor Control, who requested the opinion after questions arose in the primary election last May 7.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has penetrated the American Communist party. American spies overseas are having a tougher time behind the Iron Curtain.

As for the getting information on what goes on among the leaders of the Russian Communist party, President Eisenhower has indicated the best we can do is guess.

It's not news that the Central Intelligence Agency — this country's supersecret overseas spy organization — has trouble in the Communist world.

Two years ago a task force of the Hoover Commission—headed by Gen. Mark W. Clark—examined the CIA and expressed concern at the "lack of adequate intelligence data from behind the Iron Curtain."

What happened this week was a reminder the CIA is still having trouble.

For days the world—including the Eisenhower administration — has been wondering what is happening to Marshal Georgi Zhukov, who was riding high as Russia's defense minister and now suddenly has been knocked off his pedestal in the Kremlin hierarchy.

That may have been one of the reasons why Allen W. Dulles, director of the CIA, was included among 23 top government officials who conferred Thursday with Eisenhower, although he frequently attends such meetings of the National Security Council.

Eisenhower was reminded at his news conference Wednesday that some weeks ago he expressed the view Zhukov's position among the Russian leaders seemed greatly strengthened.

Then over last weekend Zhukov was suddenly—it seemed almost brutally—yanked out of his job as Russia's defense minister. And the Kremlin hasn't yet explained why or what is going to happen to Russia's wartime hero.

In view of what Eisenhower had said about Zhukov—followed by what happened to him—a reporter asked the President:

"I wonder if you could tell us whether you are satisfied whether the intelligence estimates you received about that (Zhukov's demotion) were quite adequate."

The President answered:

". . . Any effort to penetrate the Soviet mind, or at least the mind of the men in the Kremlin so determine their reasons for doing anything, is highly speculative and that is all it is.

"I don't think that any intelligence system can really give you a complete and positive answer on this."

He added that this country didn't know what had happened to Zhukov.

It's possible most of the Kremlin's top men didn't know either until Nikita Khrushchev, Russian Communist party boss, and his inner circle made the decision.

WHS News Briefs

By-Lines

By RON COFFMAN

Something reminiscent of the changing of the guard at England's Buckingham Palace has taken place this week at WHS as the students, who maintained the classes last week, for the most part are absent this week.

We hope that everyone, now absent, will hurry and come back so that school can resume at a normal pace.

IT'S HARD to realize, or maybe not, that we have been in school for a full nine weeks, and that there are 27 weeks left; made your summer plans yet?

A STUDENT PLEDGE, produced and mimeographed by the Student Council is now on the bulletin board of each room, and available to any student who would like to have a copy. The Council feels that this pledge is a fine guide for student activities and should be read and followed by every student attending Washington High School. Here in its entirety, is the pledge:

"I realize that, as a student in an American high school, I have an obligation to parents or relatives whose sacrifices have given me the foundations upon which I am building, to the school which offers me an opportunity to develop my natural powers, and to the community which makes my educational advantages, possible, to my country which gives me my liberty under law, and to my own future as an individual and a citizen.

"As a token of my determination honorably to discharge this obligation, I promise:

"That I will use the facilities offered by the classroom to enlarge and broaden my interest, to increase my knowledge, to bring myself closer to truth, and to cultivate habits of industry and sound thinking.

"That I will broaden my sympathies and practice the arts of sociability, true friendliness and helpfulness in my home, in the school and in all my associations; avoiding snobbishness in my own conduct and condemning it in others.

"That I will develop the habits of reading and conversing which will broaden my culture and enable me better to understand the problems of community, state, and nation.

"That I will carry on discussions in and out of the classroom, not to overcome opponents and gratify my pride but that I may grow in knowledge and wisdom.

"That I will avoid every form of dishonesty and will undertake to discourage all dishonorable practices.

"That I will obey every rule or law of school, city, state, and nation reserving the right to criticize rules and laws constructively, but respecting them so long as they prevail.

"That I will use my powers and influence for the common good.

"That I will pursue happiness myself and strive to establish conditions under which happiness and opportunity may be hopefully pursued by every one in my home, my school, my community, my country, and the world."

Don't you think that if we all tried to follow these rules, the world would be a much better place in which to live, work, and grow to adulthood?

THE SUNBURST STAFF held a meeting Tuesday evening. The special feature was a talk given by Mr. McCormick, the yearbook's representative from the Taylor Publishing Co. of Dallas, Tex. This firm publishes the Sunburst.

Mr. McCormick spoke on choosing a cover for the yearbook, and the planning of a theme. Some very good ideas along this line were brought up and discussed, but, of course, all plans for the 1958 annual are as yet top-secret.

ONE OF the busiest days on record occurred at the library Tuesday, we were informed by Mrs. Scott, the librarian. After she had shown the seventh graders the proper methods of using the library, more than 130 books were checked out at the desk.

TOP FIVE songs of the week at WHS are: (1) "Chances Are," (2) "Honeycomb," (3) "Fascination," (4) "Around the World," (5) "Wake Up Little Susie". Coming Up: "Jailhouse Rock."

"MAKE-UP" is the theme of the week at WHS. With many students far behind in tests and assignments, many teachers are using home-room periods and after school for the sole purpose of trying to help these students get up-to-date with the class.

BEVERLY HORNEY, Sophomore attendent to Homecoming Queen Jean Conaway is the subject of one of our feature articles this week.

Beverly was born on July 25, 1942, and has lived her entire life in Washington C. H. She and her parents now reside at 1231 Washington Ave.

To attempt to give a word picture of how pretty "Bev" really is, she is 5 ft. 4 in. tall, weighs 114 pounds, has flowing dark brown hair, a warm friendly smile, and sparkling blue eyes.

This year she has enrolled in a commercial course, which includes Typing I, Business Arithmetic, World History, English II and Home Economics. As well as being an honor student, she is active in the Sophomore Y-Teen Club, and for five years has been a member of 4-H. Beverly is also active in youth work at the First Baptist Church, and in her leisure time enjoys dancing, singing, and music in general.

In addition to Bev, there is another member of the Horney household, her young brother.

This is the first time since she has been selected as a Homecoming attendant, and she said that she would like to express her elation over being chosen and her deep and sincere thanks to the members of her class for choosing her.

I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Horney for their kind cooperation in making their part of the column possible, as Beverly has been ill with the flu for the past week and they helped me put this together and run a question and answer service between Bev. and the telephone.

Hurry and get well Bev, we all miss you!

DURING the past two weeks, the Junior class carried out a rather unusual project, that of selling shoe preserver. Although the final amount is not yet known, the officials in charge of the project feel certain that the sale boosted the class treasury considerably, which is good, for the Juniors have the responsibility of financing the Junior-Senior Prom next spring.

BASKETBALL is steadily creeping up on us as the first indoor practices are now being held and sandlot football is being replaced by foul-shooting and dribbling. Also, it is the hope of Mr.Russell, head basketball coach, that more students will volunteer to join a pep club to help cheer our teams at all games, both home and away. As yet, there has been little student interest in this club and time, to make the necessary arrangements, is growing short. If you would like to have better school spirit and help our basketball team on to victory, please contact Mr. Russell in room 106 sometime this coming week. We personally feel that such a club would add greatly to both school spirit and prestige and urge you to join and support such an organization.

IN STUDENT COUNCIL Wednesday morning, a great deal of legislation was taken care of. It was decided that since the pencil machine in the principal's office frequently had mechanical difficulties, extra pencils and change should be placed in a drawer, that could be used if the machine broke down. Also, the P. A. Chap Programs for the next month were approved, with the choir taking sponsorship of these during the next two week's period.

All the committees for the Homecoming Dance were reported to be proceeding at a satisfactory rate and it was decided that each committee chairman should submit to Council both a written and an oral report on their group's progress. The outline for the Homecoming Dance program is beginning to take shape, and altogether, the reshuffled and delayed Homecoming plans are coming along very well.

Also discussed were the proposed Student Council yearbooks and the evaluation of assemblies for the purpose of providing better, more enjoyable auditorium programs for the student body.

Officers of the Student Council are; John Rhoad, president, Mike Lawrence, vice president; Jean Conaway, secretary, and Tom Swaim, treasurer. Mr. Nestor is the advisor.

THE BAND, after performing at Hilliards tonight during the halftime, will board their buses and return to Washington C. H. rather than watch the second half of the game. The reason for this is that at 8 o'clock Saturday they will leave from the fieldhouse for Cincinnati to take part in a huge band festival at the University of Cincinnati. They will arrive at UC about 11 a. m. and, after a few free minutes for touring the campus, will take part in the massed band rehearsal at Nippert Stadium at about noon. That afternoon they and 28 other high school bands will be the guests of UC for the Detroit-UC game, and at the half all the bands will form on the field for a salute to Stephen Foster.

After the game, the band will board their buses and search for a good restaurant to eat dinner. After dining, the band will start the long trek homeward, arriving back in Washington C. H., about 8 p. m.

HELEN SMITH, who was selected by her class as the Junior attendent for homecoming, was born on Jan. 30, 1941 and has lived her entire life in Washington C. H. She is 5 ft. 1 in. tall, weighs 110 pounds has green eyes, soft brown hair, and a radiant complexion. Once before Helen has had the honor of appearing in a homecoming as she was the Eigth Grade attendent in 1954.

Helen is active in the Y-Teens where she is the news reporter, in the Future Nurses Club, in which she is vice president, and in the Junior Class itself, where she is a secretary. In addition to her club and class work, work she is enrolled in a college preparatory course, which this year includes English, Chemistry, American History, and Speech. Helen is an honor student in all of these subjects. After graduation she plans to enter school and hopes eventually to become a nurse.

Helen's father is an employe of the Dayton Power & Light Co., and the family resides at 132 Eastview Rd.

Helen says that she is delighted to have been chosen, and considers this "Probably the biggest thrill of my high school life."

And we present to you the vivacious young Junior attendent, Helen Smith. Next week we will present Marianne Mouser, the Senior attendent, as our feature story.

THE SENIOR Y-TEEN Club has sweat jackets for sale starting Monday, Nov. 4. The jackets have the words "Washington High School" imprinted around the face of a lion. Marianne Mouser, club president, stated that sales will be carried on during the home room period.

THE H-Y CLUB carried out one of its many fine service projects in the wee hours of this morning, as they washed and cleaned the Court St. merchants' windows. This program was initiated last year and it is hoped (both by the club and the merchants) that it will continue for many years to come.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neumann on the birth of a 7 pound, 9 ounce bouncing baby boy at 4:57 p. m. Wednesday in Memorial Hospital. He was christened David William, the latter name in honor of Mr. Neumann's father.

Versailles, Ohio, is one of the leading poultry and egg centers in the Midwest. Approximately 20,000 cases of eggs are handled weekly in this community - that is an egg a day for a million people. The dressing plant here slaughter from 10 to 12,000 head of poultry a day and ice and ship to market.

Paper Work Seen Chilling Engineers

CINCINNATI (AP) — Too much "paper work" is being blamed for the shortage of engineers for technical operations in both government and industry.

Dr. S. M. Vinocour of Washington, speaking for the National Assn. and Council of Business Schools, declared that "it is becoming increasingly and painfully clear that highly trained technical men have so much routine figuring work, so many reports and other things to do, which could be done easily by less highly trained assistants, that our schools can help by training such assistants."

DISBANDS—Marriage was "far too confining a relationship" for John Philip Sousa III, said Mrs. Dorothy Sousa, shown as she won a divorce in Los Angeles. Sousa has been paying $200 a month support for their 10-year-old son. (International)

WHS News Briefs

By-Lines

By RON COFFMAN

Something reminiscent of the changing of the guard at England's Buckingham Palace has taken place this week at WHS as the students, who maintained the classes last week, for the most part are absent this week.

We hope that everyone, now absent, will hurry and come back so that school can resume at a normal pace.

IT'S HARD to realize, or maybe not, that we have been in school for a full nine weeks, and that there are 27 weeks left; made your summer plans yet?

A STUDENT PLEDGE, produced and mimeographed by the Student Council is now on the bulletin board of each room, and available to any student who would like to have a copy. The Council feels that this pledge is a fine guide for student activities and should be read and followed by every student attending Washington High School. Here in its entirety, is the pledge:

"I realize that, as a student in an American high school, I have an obligation to parents or relatives whose sacrifices have given me the foundations upon which I am building, to the school which offers me an opportunity to develop my natural powers, and to the community which makes my educational advantages, possible, to my country which gives me my liberty under law, and to my own future as an individual and a citizen.

"As a token of my determination honorably to discharge this obligation, I promise:

"That I will use the facilities offered by the classroom to enlarge and broaden my interest, to increase my knowledge, to bring myself closer to truth, and to cultivate habits of industry and sound thinking.

"That I will broaden my sympathies and practice the arts of sociability, true friendliness and helpfulness in my home, in the school and in all my associations; avoiding snobbishness in my own conduct and condemning it in others.

"That I will develop the habits of reading and conversing which will broaden my culture and enable me better to understand the problems of community, state, and nation.

"That I will carry on discussions in and out of the classroom, not to overcome opponents and gratify my pride but that I may grow in knowledge and wisdom.

"That I will avoid every form of dishonesty and will undertake to discourage all dishonorable practices.

"That I will obey every rule or law of school, city, state, and nation reserving the right to criticize rules and laws constructively, but respecting them so long as they prevail.

"That I will use my powers and influence for the common good.

"That I will pursue happiness myself and strive to establish conditions under which happiness and opportunity may be hopefully pursued by every one in my home, my school, my community, my country, and the world."

Don't you think that if we all tried to follow these rules, the world would be a much better place in which to live, work, and grow to adulthood?

U. S. Home Economics Lab Encouraging More Visitors

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like most homemakers, the government's Institute of Home Economics welcomes visitors to its laboratories at the U. S. Agricultural Research Center in nearby Maryland.

The institute's main job is to find facts about such things as nutrition, textiles, housing and household equipment for passing along to teachers, who in turn pass them to prospective homemakers. However, it receives a steadily increasing influx of visitors.

Mrs. Zelta Rodenwold, consultant on international programs and herself a home economist, estimates that more than 4,000 persons visited the institute during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957. Some 763 were from 67 different foreign countries from A (Argentina) to Y (Yugoslavia). The remainder came from all but one (Rhode Island) of the states, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

Homemakers were the largest group. Home economics students, extension workers, teachers, engineers and builders were next. Mrs. Rodenwold figures that more than 60 occupations or professions were included in the folks she and her assistants guided through the laboratories.

There were also agricultural ambassadors and architects, biochemists, physicians, nurses, dieticians, accountants, members of the armed forces, bus drivers, geneticists, 4-H groups, business men, international foreign exchange students, members of the British Parliament, retired folks and soil conservationists.

"We are pleased to have them pay us a visit," says Mrs. Rodenwold, "but we like to have them write or call ahead of time. We don't like to have folks just drop in, any more than any homemaker."

Most visitors want to get an overall picture of home economics research and the material and instruments with which the experts work. If they're researchers themselves they want to talk with the researchers in their particular field, whether its food analysis, nutrition or home management.

Foreign visitors are most impressed by the fact that there's such a close relationship between researchers, teachers and the ultimate consumer, Mrs Rodenwold said.

"This is made possible through wide dissemination of our findings through our own publications, the press, radio, TV, lecturers and teachers in meetings and classrooms," she added.

Milk Firm Claims It Unable To Up Prices Paid Farmers

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The president of the Canton Pure Milk Co. —picketed by dairy farmers since Monday because it stopped taking milk from 73 producers—said Thursday night that to pay the price those producers ask would leave him no profit margin.

J. A. Martig Jr. said he had a fourth meeting in the dispute scheduled for today with the Stark County Milk Producers Assn., but "so far they have refused to reduce the price of milk."

"All the dairies in the Canton, Massillon, Alliance and North Canton areas they are trying to get the price of Class 1 milk down," said Martig. "They can't live with this price."

The price against which Martig is fighting includes a premium over the federal milk order price. The premium was put into effect in mid-August after the Ohio Dairy Farmers Bargaining Assn. were within a few hours of a threatened strike. The ODFA represented a minority of dairy farmers in the area and is an organization separate from the larger producer groups involved in the current dispute.

The increase to $5.52 a hundredweight for fluid milk meant the equivalent of about a cent a quart more at the retail level.

Fred Moser, a member of the Canton Producers Sales Committee, said dealers agreed Aug. 17 to pay the $5.52 Class I price but "we never signed any agreement —it was just an oral agreement."

Martig declared:

"I never agreed to pay $5.24 for blend milk and never signed any agreement. The dairies here have paid $5, which is 15 cents above the federal order blend price.

"The dairies are willing to pay a good price if the price is stabilized. This controversy would never have come along if the Lawson firm would raise its price."

Martig said it had been expected that there would be a seasonal increase in retail prices by Lawson Milk Co. of Cuyahoga Falls which undersells its competitors in this area by two cents a gallon on milk bought at stores.

Part of the squeeze in the current situation has developed because there is an unseasonally high milk production.

West Germany Eases Loan Limit

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — West Germany, which has built up a large surplus of foreign currencies, has eliminated its time limits on bank loans to foreign borrowers.

The West German Federal Bank said that all banks and credit institutions may now set whatever repayment time they want on loans made abroad. Previously the banks were not permitted to make loans to foreigners running more than 180 days.

A Dog's Life

CLINTON, Okla. (AP) — L. T. Bruce found out that dogs are as selfish as humans.

When his grandson came to visit, he brought along his beagle puppy. The neighbor's cocker saw the beagle and promptly gathered up his playthings including two rubber balls, two rubber mice and a leather watch band, and laid down on top of them.

Doctor Shuns Trust Fund; Ohio Communities To Benefit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio communities with Timken Roller Bearing Co. plants are expected to benefit from the decision of a 70-year-old doctor to pass up an estimated $800,000 of trust fund income.

The doctor is John Clawson Burnett, a tall and husky man who has retired from practice and is living in Las Vegas, Nev.

The trust fund amounts to about 16 million dollars, and it was established in 1920 by his wife Cora, who died in New Jersey Jan. 7, 1956.

In her will she provided that Burnett would receive the fund's income, and after his death the principal would go to the Timken Foundation of Canton.

But in Common Pleas Court Thursday Burnett said he did not want the income from the trust fund and would rather it be turned over now to the Timken Foundation. The doctor's lawyers said he felt he was amply provided for without the trust fund income. His wife left him more than half of a seven million dollar estate, plus real estate.

The Burnetts, before her death, took an active interest in the charitable work of the Foundation. Richard C. Baker of Canton, the Foundation secretary, said its aim is "to return benefits to the areas in which the Timken Roller Bearing Co. did business."

Up through 1956, Baker said, the Foundation made grants totaling $5,600,000, and these included:

One and ¼ million dollars each Canton vocational high school; $300,000 for a Columbus children's hospital; and $25,000 to hospitals in Mount Vernon and New Philadelphia.

Judge Samuel H. Silbert took the case under advisement. It was placed in his court through a suit by the Cleveland Trust Co., the trustee for Mrs. Burnett's fund, asking to have the court decide what should be done with the income Dr. Burnett refused to accept after his wife's death.

U. S. Home Economics Lab Encouraging More Visitors

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like most homemakers, the government's Institute of Home Economics welcomes visitors to its laboratories at the U. S. Agricultural Research Center in nearby Maryland.

The institute's main job is to find facts about such things as nutrition, textiles, housing and household equipment for passing along to teachers, who in turn pass them to prospective homemakers. However, it receives a steadily increasing influx of visitors.

Mrs. Zelta Rodenwold, consultant on international programs and herself a home economist, estimates that more than 4,000 persons visited the institute during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1957. Some 763 were from 67 different foreign countries from A (Argentina) to Y (Yugoslavia). The remainder came from all but one (Rhode Island) of the states, Puerto Rico, Hawaii and the District of Columbia.

Homemakers were the largest group. Home economics students, extension workers, teachers, engineers and builders were next. Mrs. Rodenwold figures that more than 60 occupations or professions were included in the folks she and her assistants guided through the laboratories.

There were also agricultural ambassadors and architects, biochemists, physicians, nurses, dieticians, accountants, members of the armed forces, bus drivers, geneticists, 4-H groups, business men, international foreign exchange students, members of the British Parliament, retired folks and soil conservationists.

"We are pleased to have them pay us a visit," says Mrs. Rodenwold, "but we like to have them write or call ahead of time. We don't like to have folks just drop in, any more than any homemaker."

Most visitors want to get an overall picture of home economics research and the material and instruments with which the experts work. If they're researchers themselves they want to talk with the researchers in their particular field, whether its food analysis, nutrition or home management.

Foreign visitors are most impressed by the fact that there's such a close relationship between researchers, teachers and the ultimate consumer, Mrs Rodenwold said.

"This is made possible through wide dissemination of our findings through our own publications, the press, radio, TV, lecturers and teachers in meetings and classrooms," she added.

Milk Firm Claims It Unable To Up Prices Paid Farmers

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The president of the Canton Pure Milk Co. —picketed by dairy farmers since Monday because it stopped taking milk from 73 producers—said Thursday night that to pay the price those producers ask would leave him no profit margin.

J. A. Martig Jr. said he had a fourth meeting in the dispute scheduled for today with the Stark County Milk Producers Assn., but "so far they have refused to reduce the price of milk."

"All the dairies in the Canton, Massillon, Alliance and North Canton areas they are trying to get the price of Class 1 milk down," said Martig. "They can't live with this price."

The price against which Martig is fighting includes a premium over the federal milk order price. The premium was put into effect in mid-August after the Ohio Dairy Farmers Bargaining Assn. were within a few hours of a threatened strike. The ODFA represented a minority of dairy farmers in the area and is an organization separate from the larger producer groups involved in the current dispute.

The increase to $5.52 a hundredweight for fluid milk meant the equivalent of about a cent a quart more at the retail level.

Fred Moser, a member of the Canton Producers Sales Committee, said dealers agreed Aug. 17 to pay the $5.52 Class I price but "we never signed any agreement —it was just an oral agreement."

Martig declared:

"I never agreed to pay $5.24 for blend milk and never signed any agreement. The dairies here have paid $5, which is 15 cents above the federal order blend price.

"The dairies are willing to pay a good price if the price is stabilized. This controversy would never have come along if the Lawson firm would raise its price."

Martig said it had been expected that there would be a seasonal increase in retail prices by Lawson Milk Co. of Cuyahoga Falls which undersells its competitors in this area by two cents a gallon on milk bought at stores.

Part of the squeeze in the current situation has developed because there is an unseasonally high milk production.

Union Shuns Cleanup Order

Teamsters To Appeal To AFL-CIO Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union has decided to disregard a clean-up order from the AFL-CIO Executive Council, and instead will appeal the matter to the AFL-CIO convention.

Defiance of the mandate to change its upper echelons pointed to almost certain expulsion of the Teamsters by the full AFL-CIO convention which opens Dec. 5 in Atlantic City.

Retiring Teamsters President Dave Beck told newsmen Thursday "I'd certainly be an optimist if I thought" the appeal would do any good in averting the threatened ouster of his union from the federation.

Beck met with reporters after the Teamsters executive board decided unanimously against doing anything about the AFL-CIO corruption charges against its leaders.

The AFL-CIO council has suspended the big 1½ million member union until it ousts officials accused of misdeeds. The suspension from the federation was expected to become expulsion at the AFL-CIO convention.

BECK SAID that if necessary, the truckers are prepared to go it alone.

Beck and other Teamster leaders, including president - elect James Hoffa, have been accused of misconduct and misuse of union funds by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Federal Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts last week temporarily enjoined Hoffa from taking over the union's presidency. Letts decided the convention which picked Hoffa was stacked in his favor.

The U. S. Court of Appeals has reserved decision on a union appeal on the injunction.

Beck said he would continue in office as long as the legality of Hoffa's election is being questioned in the courts.

THE MORNING AFTER--Members of the Washington C. H. high school Hi-Y Club washed a lot of windows, gratis, early Friday. As they have done for several years, the boys met at 5 a. m. and cleaned all the Halloween soap off store windows on both sides of Court St. from Hinde to North. The 30 boys finished earlier than they had anticipated, so they cleaned some of the windows on N. Fayette St., too. All the work was done by 7:45 a. m. and the boys went to their regular high school classes.

Fayette County Couple Returning To Central America Mission School

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hawk are getting ready to go back to Honduras—this time for four years.

Hawk is preparing to leave here Monday in a truck. Mrs. Hawk and their five children, Ted, 13, Tim, 10, Jeannie, 7, Terry, 4, and Tommy, 1, will take a plane and fly down south of the border about two weeks later.

But, Hawk will not be making that long, and sometimes rough trip alone.

The Rev. Charles W. Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union on Gregg St. is going with him, partly to keep him company on the way, partly for the adventure and to see the country, but mainly to see the mission farm with its school for underprivileged boys maintained in Honduras by the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

The Rev. Mr. Ware plans to return by plane as soon as he has had time to look over the mission farm and school. That will be soon after Mrs. Hawk and the five children arrive.

* * *

HAWK GREW UP on the Fayette County farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawk on the Bloomingburg-New Holland Rd. and was graduated from Bloomingburg High School in 1940.

Mrs. Hawk, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker, 324 Gibbs Ave., is a Washington C. H. girl, and she has entered the missionary field to satisfy an ambition she has had since childhood.

In Honduras, the Hawks devote most of their time to teaching the natives modern farming methods—within the limits of the facilities at hand—and developing the church's 800-acre mission farm. This is the work Hawk, especially, is best qualified for.

The Hawks went to Honduras first in December of 1947. They remained two years. They returned in 1953 and this time stayed until September of 1956, when they came back home. Now they are going back for the third time, with plans to remain for four years.

Since they first went there, they have managed to clear 200 acres of jungle for cultivation. An additional 400 acres was cleared for grazing.

"We haven't needed more than 200 acres," he said significantly, "because we couldn't have farmed more than that with nothing but hand labor."

* * *

HAWK EXPLAINED that clearing the land has been more of a project than it might seem, considering that all the work had to be done by hand and with relatively primatively equipment.

He pointed out, too, that 200 acres will produce more in Honduras than in Fayette County, because, in that tropical climate, three or four crops a year can be produced.

And what are the crops? Principally they are corn, rice, beans (for human consumption) sugar cane and bananas.

Hawk and the Rev. Mr. Ware are making the trip this time so they can take a tractor, disc, corn sheller and seed cleaner and a bell to put on the mission church.

He said he will not only use the equipment on the farm, but also will use it to teach the people about modern farm machinery and how to use it.

There were 33 boys in the mission school when the Hawks left about a year ago. When they get back, they expect that there will be 40 to 50 in it.

* * *

MR. AND MRS. HAWK have had to teach their own children at home, but hope to send them to another mission school for the later grades. But that school is a long way from where they live. When they reach high school age, they say they plan to send them to school here.

The mission farm is in a fertile valley about 155 miles from Tegucigalpa, the capital. There are roads, Hawk said, but not like the hard-surfaced highways so common in the United States.

Most of their life is spent with the Spanish-speaking people of Honduras, but they have not only learned the language—at least well enough to get by—but also have learned the customs of the country. They like both the people and the country and their work.

* * *

HAWK, who has made the trip twice before, has no qualms about the 3,610-mile drive—plus 119 miles by train where there is no road—through Mexico, Guatemala, and Salvador to Honduras down in Central America. He and Mr. Ware plan to cross the border into Mexico at Laoredo, Tex.

The roads are "pretty good" in Mexico, he said, but through rugged mountains and much barren and forbidding land with few people. In Salvador, part of the trip has to be made by train, "because there just is no road yet."

Ware, on the basis of past experience, expects to reach the mission in central Honduras in about two weeks. He admits the ride in a truck "probably will be rough much of the way."

Bob Hope's Video Show Canceled

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope's television show scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 7, has been canceled, NBC announced.

Earlier, Timex Corp. had withdrawn sponsorship of the Hope program because he appeared as a guest on Frank Sinatra's ABC-TV show. The sponsor of the Sinatra show is another watch firm, Bulova.

NBC said another sponsor wanted to step in for Hope's show but there was not enough time to prepare commercials for Nov. 7.

East German Commies Still Harass Trains

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — Communist harassment of mail traffic between West Berlin and West Germany continued today.

East German guards detached 10 coaches from the regular mail train and held them at the East German control point of Marienborn for inspection for anti-Communist propaganda material. Such searches have been conducted for more than two weeks.

Defense Lab Lays Off 160 Researchers

LEXINGTON, Mass. (AP) — The Lincoln Laboratory, center for U. S. Air Defense Research and Development, has released 160 persons, some of them scientists and engineers, it was disclosed Thursday night.

The laboratory has about 2,000 employes, about a third of them scientists and engineers engaged in top-secret work.

Those affected by the order received notices that their services will not be needed after Feb. 1. They were told they are free to seek other employment.

Allen S. Richmond, public information officer for the laboratory, said cuts in the Defense Department appropriations was only one of a number of factors considered when the decision to make cuts was made.

He said security forbids specifying the other reason.

The laboratory is a branch of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology supported entirely by grants from the Army, Navy and Air Force.

"Fidelio" was Beethoven's only opera.

Legal Profession Urges Ban Continue on Court Photos

CHICAGO (AP) — A special committee of lawyers, judges and legal educators today urged the American Bar Assn. to retain its ban on the photographing, televising or broadcasting of court trials.

The committee contended that in spite of modern techniques, the presence of cameras and broadcasting equipment would "introduce extraneous influences which tend to have a detrimental psychological effect on the judge and the jury as well as on the litigant, his lawyers and witnesses, and to divert them from th eproper objectives of the trial."

However, the committee advocated that Canon 35 of the ABA's canons of judicial ethics be revised to permit judges to authorize photographic, radio and TV coverage of strictly ceremonial courtroom proceedings.

Heretofore, such coverage has been limited to ceremonial portions of naturalization proceedings.

The proposed revision would extend coverage by all news media to include such ceremonial proceedings as the swearing in of new judges.

Among the first to criticize the report was Herbert Brucker, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Brucker said the proposed revision, like the present canon itself, is "built upon a premise that was true in 1937 but became false long before 1957."

"This premise," he said, "is that photography and broadcasting necessarily and automatically detract from dignity, distract witnesses, and degrade the court. This just isn't so."

"Under proper control the modern means of reporting are so unobtrusive that participants are virtually unaware of them."

The revision recommendation was made by a special committee of the American Bar Foundation, after 18 months of study of the problem.

The study, made at the request of the ABA, stemmed from criticism of the provisions of canon 35 by certain representatives of the press and radio and TV broadcasters.

The committee's report will be presented for consideration by the ABA's House of Delegates—the policy making body—at a meeting in Atlanta, Feb. 24-25.

The committee said the principal argument of the press and broadcasters was that the 1st Amendment guaranteeing freedom of the press entitled all forms of news media free access to the courtroom. These proponents also contended that modern techniques would cause little, if any, confusion or distraction.

"This argument is based on a fallacious view of the nature of those "(press) freedoms," the committee said. It quoted from a 1950 decision of the U. S. Supreme Court which said:

"The right of the public to be protected, from the evils of conduct, even though 1st Amendment rights to persons or groups are thereby in some manner infringed has received frequent and consistent recognition by this court."

The committee also said that the right of judges to exclude the public from certain trials has been upheld by the courts and added that the press can claim no rights not common to "every citizen."

Income Tax Consultant Is Indicted

CLEVELAND (AP) — A federal grand jury Thursday indicted Mrs. Lular Deshazier, 47, of Akron, an income tax consultant. She was charged on 12 counts of making out fraudulent income tax returns for clients in 1954 and 1955.

Also indicted was a New Waterford coal mining and trucking operator for making false 1950 and 1051 income tax returns that defrauded the government of $44,695.

Mickey Mercure, the indictment said, had net income of about $30,000 more than the $67,879 which he reported for 1950 and in the following year had $92,592 actual net income but reported $50,977.

Four men were indicted for bank holdups.

An indictment on an armed robbery charge was returned against Will Brooks Jr., 38, of Mansfield in the $3,000 holdup of the Lucas State Bank June 25.

Another man already has been sentenced to 15 years in prison in that holdup—Elmer Chronester of Mansfield, who was captured an hour after the robbery and pleaded guilty a month ago in federal court here. Brooks, alleged to have taken most of the loot, was captured in San Francisco.

An Oct. 4 holdup in which three men took $5,231 at the Uniontown Savings & Loan Co. resulted in indictment of John Robert Irvine, 22; Carl Lee Jr., 21, and Ralph Francis Garduno, 21, all of Akron. They were captured within a few hours.

Union Shuns Cleanup Order

Teamsters To Appeal To AFL-CIO Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union has decided to disregard a clean-up order from the AFL-CIO Executive Council, and instead will appeal the matter to the AFL-CIO convention.

Defiance of the mandate to change its upper echelons pointed to almost certain expulsion of the Teamsters by the full AFL-CIO convention which opens Dec. 5 in Atlantic City.

Retiring Teamsters President Dave Beck told newsmen Thursday "I'd certainly be an optimist if I thought" the appeal would do any good in averting the threatened ouster of his union from the federation.

Beck met with reporters after the Teamsters executive board decided unanimously against doing anything about the AFL-CIO corruption charges against its leaders.

The AFL-CIO council has suspended the big 1½ million member union until it ousts officials accused of misdeeds. The suspension from the federation was expected to become expulsion at the AFL-CIO convention.

BECK SAID that if necessary, the truckers are prepared to go it alone.

Beck and other Teamster leaders, including president - elect James Hoffa, have been accused of misconduct and misuse of union funds by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Federal Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts last week temporarily enjoined Hoffa from taking over the union's presidency. Letts decided the convention which picked Hoffa was stacked in his favor.

The U. S. Court of Appeals has reserved decision on a union appeal on the injunction.

Beck said he would continue in office as long as the legality of Hoffa's election is being questioned in the courts.

THE MORNING AFTER--Members of the Washington C. H. high school Hi-Y Club washed a lot of windows, gratis, early Friday. As they have done for several years, the boys met at 5 a. m. and cleaned all the Halloween soap off store windows on both sides of Court St. from Hinde to North. The 30 boys finished earlier than they had anticipated, so they cleaned some of the windows on N. Fayette St., too. All the work was done by 7:45 a. m. and the boys went to their regular high school classes.

Fayette County Couple Returning To Central America Mission School

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hawk are getting ready to go back to Honduras—this time for four years.

Hawk is preparing to leave here Monday in a truck. Mrs. Hawk and their five children, Ted, 13, Tim, 10, Jeannie, 7, Terry, 4, and Tommy, 1, will take a plane and fly down south of the border about two weeks later.

But, Hawk will not be making that long, and sometimes rough trip alone.

The Rev. Charles W. Ware, pastor of the Church of Christ in Christian Union on Gregg St. is going with him, partly to keep him company on the way, partly for the adventure and to see the country, but mainly to see the mission farm with its school for underprivileged boys maintained in Honduras by the Church of Christ in Christian Union.

The Rev. Mr. Ware plans to return by plane as soon as he has had time to look over the mission farm and school. That will be soon after Mrs. Hawk and the five children arrive.

• • •

HAWK GREW UP on the Fayette County farm of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawk on the Bloomingburg-New Holland Rd. and was graduated from Bloomingburg High School in 1940.

Mrs. Hawk, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker, 324 Gibbs Ave., is a Washington C. H. girl, and she has entered the missionary field to satisfy an ambition she has had since childhood.

In Honduras, the Hawks devote most of their time to teaching the natives modern farming methods—within the limits of the facilities at hand—and developing the church's 800-acre mission farm. This is the work Hawk, especially, is best qualified for.

The Hawks went to Honduras first in December of 1947. They remained two years. They returned in 1953 and this time stayed until September of 1956, when they came back home. Now they are going back for the third time, with plans to remain for four years.

Since they first went there, they have managed to clear 200 acres of jungle for cultivation. An additional 400 acres was cleared for grazing.

"We haven't needed more than 200 acres," he said significantly, "because we couldn't have farmed more than that with nothing but hand labor."

• • •

HAWK EXPLAINED that clearing the land has been more of a project than it might seem, considering that all the work had to be done by hand and with relatively primatively equipment.

He pointed out, too, that 200 acres will produce more in Honduras than in Fayette County, because, in that tropical climate, three or four crops a year can be produced.

And what are the crops? Principally they are corn, rice, beans (for human consumption) sugar cane and bananas.

Hawk and the Rev. Mr. Ware are making the trip this time so they can take a tractor, disc, corn sheller and seed cleaner and a bell to put on the mission church.

He said he will not only use the equipment on the farm, but also will use it to teach the people about modern farm machinery and how to use it.

There were 33 boys in the mission school when the Hawks left about a year ago. When they get back, they expect that there will be 40 to 50 in it.

• • •

MR. AND MRS. HAWK have had to teach their own children at home, but hope to send them to another mission school for the later grades. But that school is a long way from where they live. When they reach high school age, they say they plan to send them to school here.

The mission farm is in a fertile valley about 155 miles from Tegucigalpa, the capital. There are roads, Hawk said, but not like the hard-surfaced highways so common in the United States.

Most of their life is spent with the Spanish-speaking people of Honduras, but they have not only learned the language—at least well enough to get by—but also have learned the customs of the country. They like both the people and the country and their work.

• • •

HAWK, who has made the trip twice before, has no qualms about the 3,610-mile drive—plus 119 miles by train where there is no road—through Mexico, Guatemala, and Salvador to Honduras down in Central America. He and Mr. Ware plan to cross the border into Mexico at Laoredo, Tex.

The roads are "pretty good" in Mexico, he said, but through rugged mountains and much barren and forbidding land with few people. In Salvador, part of the trip has to be made by train, "because there just is no road yet."

Ware, on the basis of past experience, expects to reach the mission in central Honduras in about two weeks. He admits the ride in a truck "probably will be rough much of the way."

Bob Hope's Video Show Canceled

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Hope's television show scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 7, has been canceled, NBC announced.

Earlier, Timex Corp. had withdrawn sponsorship of the Hope program because he appeared as a guest on Frank Sinatra's ABC-TV show. The sponsor of the Sinatra show is another watch firm, Bulova.

NBC said another sponsor wanted to step in for Hope's show but there was not enough time to prepare commercials for Nov. 7.

East German Commies Still Harass Trains

HELMSTEDT, Germany (AP) — Communist harassment of mail traffic between West Berlin and West Germany continued today.

East German guards detached 10 coaches from the regular mail train and held them at the East German control point of Marienborn for inspection for anti-Communist propaganda material. Such searches have been conducted for more than two weeks.

Defense Lab Lays Off 160 Researchers

LEXINGTON, Mass. (AP) — The Lincoln Laboratory, center for U. S. Air Defense Research and Development, has released 160 persons, some of them scientists and engineers, it was disclosed Thursday night.

The laboratory has about 2,000 employes, about a third of them scientists and engineers engaged in top-secret work.

Those affected by the order received notices that their services will not be needed after Feb. 1. They were told they are free to seek other employment.

Allen S. Richmond, public information officer for the laboratory, said cuts in the Defense Department appropriations was only one of a number of factors considered when the decision to make cuts was made.

He said security forbids specifying the other reason.

The laboratory is a branch of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology supported entirely by grants from the Army, Navy and Air Force.

"Fidelio" was Beethoven's only opera.

Legal Profession Urges Ban Continue on Court Photos

CHICAGO (AP) — A special committee of lawyers, judges and legal educators today urged the American Bar Assn. to retain its ban on the photographing, televising or broadcasting of court trials.

The committee contended that in spite of modern techniques, the presence of cameras and broadcasting equipment would "introduce extraneous influences which tend to have a detrimental psychological effect on the judge and the jury as well as on the litigant, his lawyers and witnesses, and to divert them from th eproper objectives of the trial."

However, the committee advocated that Canon 35 of the ABA's canons of judicial ethics be revised to permit judges to authorize photographic, radio and TV coverage of strictly ceremonial courtroom proceedings.

Heretofore, such coverage has been limited to ceremonial portions of naturalization proceedings.

The proposed revision would extend coverage by all news media to include such ceremonial proceedings as the swearing in of new judges.

Among the first to criticize the report was Herbert Brucker, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Brucker said the proposed revision, like the present canon itself, is "built upon a premise that was true in 1937 but became false long before 1957."

"This premise," he said, "is that photography and broadcasting necessarily and automatically detract from dignity, distract witnesses, and degrade the court. This just isn't so."

"Under proper control the modern means of reporting are so unobtrusive that participants are virtually unaware of them."

The revision recommendation was made by a special committee of the American Bar Foundation, after 18 months of study of the problem.

The study, made at the request of the ABA, stemmed from criticism of the provisions of canon 35 by certain representatives of the press and radio and TV broadcasters.

The committee's report will be presented for consideration by the ABA's House of Delegates—the policy making body—at a meeting in Atlanta, Feb. 24-25.

The committee said the principal argument of the press and broadcasters was that the 1st Amendment guaranteeing freedom of the press entitled all forms of news media free access to the courtroom. These proponents also contended that modern techniques would cause little, if any, confusion or distraction.

"This argument is based on a fallacious view of the nature of those "(press) freedoms," the committee said. It quoted from a 1950 decision of the U. S. Supreme Court which said:

"The right of the public to be protected, from the evils of conduct, even though 1st Amendment rights to persons or groups are thereby in some manner infringed has received frequent and consistent recognition by this court."

The committee also said that the right of judges to exclude the public from certain trials has been upheld by the courts and added that the press can claim no rights not common to "every citizen."

The Busy Days before Winter Comes

Annual Leaf-Gathering Headache Just Beginning for City Workers

Autumn and the falling leaves may stir the poet to song, but to Clyde Smith and the city street crew they are just one big elongated headache.

The headache started this week and it will continue to get worse for the next few weeks.

Smith, the city street maintenance superintendent, started two trucks, each with a crew of two or three men, and the city's mobile leaf "sucking" equipment, with a similar crew, last Monday. Their job will be continuous from now until the last leaf falls.

Each of the leaf-gathering outfits is assigned to several streets every morning. They go up one and down another, gathering up the piles of leaves along the curb and hauling them either to the city dump on Robinson Rd. or to the bottoms at the north end of Fayette St. Where the leaves are taken depends on where they are picked up, City Manager James F. Parkinson explained.

Parkinson suggested that homeowners rake the leaves from their lawns to the street and pile them along the curb. He emphasized that they should be "pushed over the grass plots and out into the street" so they can be either "sucked" up or gathered up with shovels without damaging the grass.

* * *

THE CITY MANAGER admitted that the worst is yet to come, because not nearly all of the leaves are off the trees yet. But, he pointed out, that the street crew want to keep ahead of the big tide if possible.

It is all right to call City Hall to say there is a pile of leaves in the street to be hauled away, Parkinson said, but he added "the crews just answer all the calls right way . . .the street crews will get to them just as soon as they can. . . people will have to be patient and we'll try not to overlook any."

Although there are many, many flower gardners in and near the city, Parkinson said that, oddly enough, very few people ever go to the leaf dumps to get the compost of rotted vegetation so highly recommended for gardens.

The crew were a little tardy starting the leaf-gathering, Parkinson said, but explained they have been busy patching streets with hot mix before cold weather sets in.

There may be some odd jobs of patching done for the next week or so he said, but by and large, this work on the streets is finished until next spring.

* * *

DURING the last few weeks several streets have been resurfaced, the major projects being Columbus Ave., Grand Ave and Newberry St. (one block.) Ely St. and several alleys that have heavy traffic have been surfaced, too, with the property owners providing the hotmix and the city doing the work.

Just before the street crew started to concentrate on the leaves, it set the concrete "buttons" or "knobs" on the safety islands at the junction of Leesburg, Clinton and Highland Aves. with W. Court St. where the new traffic control systems of lights was installed a few weeks ago.

When the new system was put in, Parkinson explained, the safety islands were painted oh the streets and temporary cones placed on them. The purpose, he said, was to make certain they were in the right places before the permanent "buttons" were set.

The "buttons," about a foot in diameter and a half-foot high, were made to specifications by the Payne Concrete Block Co. here. They were painted bright yellow and, while the paint was still wet, sprinkled with granulated glass so they will reflect headlights at night.

* * *

AFTER THE "buttons" were made, the big question was how to fasten them to the street. Finally, heavy roofer's asphalt was heated and they were set in that. When it hardened, Parkinson said, "you couldn't knock them off with a sledge hammer. . .they would all break up first."

Parkinson feels that since the "buttons" have been set, and the lights installed with signs directing traffic in place with them, traffic will flow much more smoothly through the four-street junction.

He pointed out that there is a red blinker light where Highland Ave. joins Court St. to warn drivers to come to a stop before proceeding "with caution" to the right. Green lights and arrows direct traffic to the left out Leesburg Ave. A left turn from Highland Ave. into Clinton Ave. is prohibited; to get on Clinton Ave. from Highland Ave. it is necessary to turn west on Leesburg Ave. and cross over to Clinton Ave. at one of the cross streets.

The city manager also explained that drivers going west on Court St. may turn left into Highland Ave. only after waiting and yielding the right-of-way to eastbound traffic on Leesburg Ave.

Travel in either direction on Clinton Ave (where traffic is heaviest) is relatively simple because of the standard traffic light for the east bound land and a continuous green arrow for west bound traffic.

Mackinac Bridge Opened to Public

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP)—Michigan today opened the newest of the world's wonder bridges.

It is the Mackinac Bridge, and it joins Michigan's two peninsulas for the first time.

It cost $100 million and stretches five miles across the Straits of Mackinac, themselves a water bridge joining Lakes Michigan and Huron. Its 7,400 - foot suspension span dwarfs any other and the towers that support it reach up 552 feet—47 stories — above the straits.

Toledo To Get Project For Aged and Ailing

TOLEDO (AP)—Construction of the first building of the Crestview Project, to be composed of housing for the aged and hospital facilities for the acutely and chronically ill is expected to start in three months.

'Ducky' Corn Plans Bid for New Trial

COLUMBUS (AP)—A request for a new trial may be made in federal court here today for Dustine E. (Ducky) Corn, Ironton city councilman convicted of federal tax evasion.

Robert Gorman, Corn's attorney, said he "probably" will file the request today as the first step in setting up an appeal.

A federal grand jury convicted Corn Wednesday on 13 of 16 counts of federal tax evasion. Corn was charged with failure to file returns on some $10,000 in federal cabaret taxes between September, 1953 and September, 1955, and failure to turn the money over to the government.

The Busy Days before Winter Comes

Annual Leaf-Gathering Headache Just Beginning for City Workers

Autumn and the falling leaves may stir the poet to song, but to Clyde Smith and the city street crew they are just one big elongated headache.

The headache started this week and it will continue to get worse for the next few weeks.

Smith, the city street maintenance superintendent, started two trucks, each with a crew of two or three men, and the city's mobile leaf "sucking" equipment, with a similar crew, last Monday. Their job will be continuous from now until the last leaf falls.

Each of the leaf-gathering outfits is assigned to several streets every morning. They go up one and down another, gathering up the piles of leaves along the curb and hauling them either to the city dump on Robinson Rd. or to the bottoms at the north end of Fayette St. Where the leaves are taken depends on where they are picked up, City Manager James F. Parkinson explained.

Parkinson suggested that homeowners rake the leaves from their lawns to the street and pile them along the curb. He emphasized that they should be "pushed over the grass plots and out into the street" so they can be either "sucked" up or gathered up with shovels without damaging the grass.

* * *

THE CITY MANAGER admitted that the worst is yet to come, because not nearly all of the leaves are off the trees yet. But, he pointed out, that the street crew want to keep ahead of the big tide if possible.

It is all right to call City Hall to say there is a pile of leaves in the street to be hauled away. Parkinson said, but he added "the crews just answer all the calls right way . . .the street crews will get to them just as soon as they can. . . people will have to be patient and we'll try not to overlook any."

Although there are many, many flower gardners in and near the city, Parkinson said that, oddly enough, very few people ever go to the leaf dumps to get the compost of rotted vegetation so highly recommended for gardens.

The crew were a little tardy starting the leaf-gathering. Parkinson said, but explained they have been busy patching streets with hot mix before cold weather sets in.

There may be some odd jobs of patching done for the next week or so he said, but by and large, this work on the streets is finished until next spring.

* * *

DURING the last few weeks several streets have been resurfaced, the major projects being Columbus Ave., Grand Ave and Newberry St. (one block.) Ely St. and several alleys that have heavy traffic have been surfaced, too, with the property owners providing the hotmix and the city doing the work.

Just before the street crew started to concentrate on the leaves, it set the concrete "buttons" or "knobs" on the safety islands at the junction of Leesburg, Clinton and Highland Aves. with W. Court St. where the new traffic control systems of lights was installed a few weeks ago.

When the new system was put in, Parkinson explained, the safety islands were painted on the streets and temporary cones placed on them. The purpose, he said, was to make certain they were in the right places before the permanent "buttons" were set.

The "buttons," about a foot in diameter and a half-foot high, were made to specifications by the Payne Concrete Block Co. here. They were painted bright yellow and, while the paint was still wet, sprinkled with granulated glass so they will reflect headlights at night.

* * *

AFTER THE "buttons" were made, the big question was how to fasten them to the street. Finally, heavy roofer's asphalt was heated and they were set in that. When it hardened, Parkinson said, "you couldn't knock them off with a sledge hammer. . .they would all break up first."

Parkinson feels that since the "buttons" have been set, and the lights installed with signs directing traffic in place with them, traffic will flow much more smoothly through the four-street junction.

He pointed out that there is a red blinker light where Highland Ave. joins Court St. to warn drivers to come to a stop before proceeding "with caution" to the right. Green lights and arrows direct traffic to the left out Leesburg Ave. A left turn from Highland Ave. into Clinton Ave. is prohibited; to get on Clinton Ave. from Highland Ave. it is necessary to turn west on Leesburg Ave. and cross over to Clinton Ave. at one of the cross streets.

The city manager also explained that drivers going west on Court St. may turn left into Highland Ave. only after waiting and yielding the right-of-way to eastbound traffic on Leesburg Ave.

Travel in either direction on Clinton Ave (where traffic is heaviest) is relatively simple because of the standard traffic light for the east bound land and a continuous green arrow for west bound traffic.

Oil and Gas Test Holes Being Drilled in County

ONE OF THE DRILLING OUTFITS being used in geophysical tests to ascertain if oil or gas exist in Fayette County. The earth and fragments of stone cut by the drill are blown out of the well under pressure so it is not necessary to pull the drill. (Record-Herald photo)

Two rotary drill outfits are busy putting down dozens of test holes in Fayette County, under direction of the Kewane Oil Co., in a further effort to determine if oil and gas are under this area in paying quantities.

These two outfits are owned by the Central Exploration Co., Wichita, Kans. and Tulsa, Okla. So far, the tests have covered most of the southern half of the county.

This week one of the outfits was sinking a hole on the Maag property on Elm St., not far from St. Colman's Catholic Cemetery. Other test holes have been sunk near the city recently.

Some of the holes have been drilled to a depth of 400 feet, it is understood. In making the tests, charges of dynamite are exploded in the wells and geophysical recordings made to determine whether oil and gas are present at considerable depths.

Results of the tests are being studied by experts, and if further deep well tests are made by Kewane within the next year, the drilling will be at points where the geophysical tests show a likelihood of oil or gas or both.

Before the work is completed, it is expected that scores of holes will have been drilled in county.

Business Hurt, Aided in Race With Russians

Spending To Increase But Tax Relief Looks Distant at Same Time

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Keeping up with the Russians seems likely today both to help and to hurt business.

1. More government spending on missile and other defense programs and easing of government payment plans should help those industries directly and indirectly involved. And some of them — the aircraft companies and their host of suppliers — have been pinched by the federal economy drive.

2. Chances of balancing the budget with room enough for a tax cut look slimmer because of Sputnik's nudge to spending.

Both effects aren't likely to show up before next year — except in Wall Street and in business thinking and planning.

President Eisenhower approves upping the 38 billion dollar defense budget by 400 million dollars. But it will take time to get orders under way and war goods delivered for payment.

The fiscal pinch will be revealed first when the President offers his budget in January. It will actually be felt when the Treasury starts paying out more money and at the same time could find itself taking in no more or even less revenue.

Sputnik can't be blamed for any revenue drop. If one comes, it will be because business is now taking a breather, as the President says, and because the new crop of corporate earnings aren't waxing as fast as they did for some time.

Since the Treasury depends to a major degree on income taxes from corporations and individuals any turn down, or even a breather, in the economy would show up in next year's tax collections.

If more spending and less revenues, or at least no greater collections, pinches the budget, everyone stands to lose in the dimmer hopes for tax cuts.

Businessmen understand the need to catch up with and surpass the Russians. They are simply reviewing their plans and forecasts.

When economy was the key word in Washington, businessmen looked to a spurt in consumer spending as the chief hope for any gains next year. Consumer spending will still be the chief item, but now more defense spending may provide the spur that could end the breather in the economy.

Congress will have the final word next year in how much the defense program will be expanded. Until then businessmen — and Wall Street — will have to guess whether, and how much, the economy will be affected.

Out Among the Stars — What?

Can Man Withstand Rays Found Beyond Earth's Air?

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles telling man's hopes and problems in conquering outer space.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Human space travel has already partially begun.

Our jet pilots are flying so high that much of the earth's air is beneath them. They are already meeting and conquering some major problems involved in trips to the Moon or Mars.

Human volunteers in special experiments are producing answers as to whether, and how, humans can stand greater and more severe challenges higher in the void of space.

But don't fall for the pitch of some promoter offering you bargain-price reserved tickets to the Moon by 1960 or 1965.

It just won't be that easy.

Indeed, there are some scientists and experts who say space travel is forever out of the question—men couldn't stand it, or be protected well enough.

There's a middle opinion that human journeys into space are a very long way off—perhaps no earlier than the end of this century.

But enthusiasts say the first space Columbus—John or Ivan—has already been born or now is even in school. They see initial space journeys within five to 10 years.

Jet pilots are flying in such thin air that they must carry their own oxygen, use pressurized cabins and special suits, or else their blood would boil at these heights. Their planes are overcoming problems of heat from friction at high speed in the air they meet. The pilots are experiencing sensations of no gravity—weightlessness—at times in their flights.

Space flight means more or most of the same problems, intensified. But with new problems added.

Can human life withstand the radiation men will meet in space from cosmic rays, and from intense ultraviolet light and X-rays from the sun? Our blanket of atmosphere blocks out most of these which might quickly kill or damage the unprotected body.

Our air also burns up most of the meteors whizzing in at us from space. How crowded is space with this cosmic dust, or with big meteor chunks traveling faster than any cannon shell, and just as lethal if they barreled through a pressurized space cruiser?

Baby moons—U. S. and Russian—equipped with sensitive instruments and radios, will report what these hazards are, or what unsuspected dangers may exist.

Monkeys have gone up 80 miles high inside U. S. rockets. Russians report sending dogs 130 miles high. Just in the last few days, a Soviet scientist said a next step could be to put dogs or other animals in baby moons, with instruments recording and reporting what happens to them.

But the real step would be human volunteers testing the practicality of space travel.

Women might be the first choice because, say male psychologists, they can tolerate boredom and monotonous tasks better. Another suggestion is to put space crews into suspended animation on long journeys with special drugs while automatic controls or signals from earth control the flight to Mars.

It is estimated that the population of the Roman empire at its height was about 55 million.

White ants of the Caribbean islands build their nests high in the palm trees.

Mock Bomb Raids Wipe Out 3 U. S. Cities Second Time

PINECASTLE AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—An armada of atomic bombers, led by two jet aircraft from Britain's Royal Air Force, in theory wiped out Kansas City, St. Louis and Atlanta in darkness for the second consecutive night.

It was all part of the second round of six rounds—one a day—in the annual competition of the Strategic Air Command.

The two British bombers in today's competition were in Avro Vulcan from Waddington, Lincolnshire, commanded by Wing Commander C. C. Calder, and a Vickers Valiant from Wintering, Northamptonshire, commanded by Squadron leader Ronald W. Payne.

The first of the medium bombers scheduled to take off from this central Florida base today, they sought to overcome a disappointing start Thursday when another Vulcan placed 27th and a Valliant 43rd among 45 competing bombers.

The top scorer in the opening round Thursday was a B47 crew from the 22nd Bomb Wing, March AFB, Calif. It was followed closely by a B47 team from the 509th Bomb Wing, Walker AFB, Roswell, N. M.

Heavy bombers—B36s and B52s—from Carswell AFB, Tex., also participated. The best they could do in the opening round were 8th place for B36 and 10th place for the best B52.

All the bombing was by radar from altitudes of 33,000 to 35,000 feet. In the scoring it was assumed that each bomber was carrying a 1,000 pound general purpose bomb. In real action the load more likely would be a nuclear or hydrogen bomb.

Placing the heavy bombers with 411 points in the combined bombing-navigation category was a 5th Bomb Wing crew from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., in a B36 commanded by Maj. Robert D. Gardner, 34, Salem, Ore.

Runnership in the heavy bomber class and their combined scores included Laverne L. Berneburg, 33, Lima, Ohio, with 389 points.

College Entrance Scores To Be Told

NEW YORK (AP) — Students will be able to learn their scores in College Entrance Examination Board tests next year for the first time since 1916.

Many had worried whether their acceptance or rejection was by a wide or slim margin.

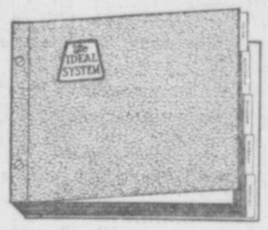

The principal reason for secrecy was that the board felt the student might misinterpret his score if it were made available to him. This is because colleges, in making admission decisions, consider not only the score but also high school records, recommendations and other factors discovered by counselors.

Two rotary drill outfits are busy putting down dozens of test holes in Fayette County, under direction of the Kewane Oil Co., in a further effort to determine if oil and gas are under this area in paying quantities.

These two outfits are owned by the Central Exploration Co., Wichita, Kans. and Tulsa, Okla. So far, the tests have covered most of the southern half of the county.

This week one of the outfits was sinking a hole on the Maag property on Elm St., not far from St. Colman's Catholic Cemetery. Other test holes have been sunk near the city recently.

Some of the holes have been drilled to a depth of 400 feet, it is understood. In making the tests, charges of dynamite are exploded in the wells and geophysical recordings made to determine whether oil and gas are present at considerable depths.

Results of the tests are being studied by experts, and if further deep well tests are made by Kewane within the next year, the drilling will be at points where the geophysical tests show a likelihood of oil or gas or both.

Before the work is completed, it is expected that scores of holes will have been drilled in county.

Business Hurt, Aided in Race With Russians

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Keeping up with the Russians seems likely today both to help and to hurt business.

1. More government spending on missile and other defense programs and easing of government payment plans should help those industries directly and indirectly involved. And some of them — the aircraft companies and their host of suppliers — have been pinched by the federal economy drive.

2. Chances of balancing the budget with room enough for a tax cut look slimmer because of Sputnik's nudge to spending.

Both effects aren't likely to show up before next year — except in Wall Street and in business thinking and planning.

President Eisenhower approves upping the 38 billion dollar defense budget by 400 million dollars. But it will take time to get orders under way and war goods delivered for payment.

The fiscal pinch will be revealed first when the President offers his budget in January. It will actually be felt when the Treasury starts paying out more money and at the same time could find itself taking in no more or even less revenue.

Sputnik can't be blamed for any revenue drop. If one comes, it will be because business is now taking a breather, as the President says, and because the new crop of corporate earnings aren't waxing as fast as they did for some time.

Since the Treasury depends to a major degree on income taxes from corporations and individuals any turn down, or even a breather, in the economy would show up in next year's tax collections.

If more spending and less revenues, or at least no greater collections, pinches the budget, everyone stands to lose in the dimmer hopes for tax cuts.

Businessmen understand the need to catch up with and surpass the Russians. They are simply reviewing their plans and forecasts.

When economy was the key word in Washington, businessmen looked to a spurt in consumer spending as the chief hope for any gains next year. Consumer spending will still be the chief item, but now more defense spending may provide the spur that could end the breather in the economy.

Congress will have the final word next year in how much the defense program will be expanded. Until then businessmen — and Wall Street — will have to guess whether, and how much, the economy will be affected.

Out Among the Stars — What?

Can Man Withstand Rays Found Beyond Earth's Air?

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles telling man's hopes and problems in conquering outer space.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP)—Human space travel has already partially begun.

Our jet pilots are flying so high that much of the earth's air is beneath them. They are already meeting and conquering some major problems involved in trips to the Moon or Mars.

Human volunteers in special experiments are producing answers as to whether, and how, humans can stand greater and more severe challenges higher in the void of space.

SON ON TRIAL — Mrs. Nina Miles, 37, bends over her son, 19-year-old Charles Lee Guy, III, in a Santa Monica, Calif., court, where he is on trial in the murder of her fiance. Two of her former husbands, including his father, are defending him. (International)

But don't fall for the pitch of some promoter offering you bargain-price reserved tickets to the Moon by 1960 or 1965.

It just won't be that easy.

Indeed, there are some scientists and experts who say space travel is forever out of the question—men couldn't stand it, or be protected well enough.

There's a middle opinion that human journeys into space are a very long way off—perhaps no earlier than the end of this century.

But enthusiasts say the first space Columbus—John or Ivan—has already been born or now is even in school. They see initial space journeys within five to 10 years.

Jet pilots are flying in such thin air that they must carry their own oxygen, use pressurized cabins and special suits, or else their blood would boil at these heights. Their planes are overcoming problems of heat from friction at high speed in the air they meet. The pilots are experiencing sensations of no gravity—weightlessness—at times in their flights.

Space flight means more or most of the same problems, intensified. But with new problems added.

Can human life withstand the radiation men will meet in space from cosmic rays, and from intense ultraviolet light and X-rays from the sun? Our blanket of atmosphere blocks out most of these which might quickly kill or damage the unprotected body.

Our air also burns up most of the meteors whizzing in at us from space. How crowded is space with this cosmic dust, or with big meteor chunks traveling faster than any cannon shell, and just as lethal if they barreled through a pressurized space cruiser?

Baby moons—U. S. and Russian—equipped with sensitive instruments and radios, will report what these hazards are, or what unsuspected dangers may exist.

Monkeys have gone up 80 miles high inside U. S. rockets. Russians report sending dogs 130 miles high. Just in the last few days, a Soviet scientist said a next step could be to put dogs or other animals in baby moons, with instruments recording and reporting what happens to them.

But the real step would be human volunteers testing the practicality of space travel.

Women might be the first choice because, say male psychologists, they can tolerate boredom and monotonous tasks better. Another suggestion is to put space crews into suspended animation on long journeys with special drugs while automatic controls or signals from earth control the flight to Mars.

It is estimated that the population of the Roman empire at its height was about 55 million.

White ants of the Caribbean islands build their nests high in the palm trees.

College Entrance Scores To Be Told

NEW YORK (AP) — Students will be able to learn their scores in College Entrance Examination Board tests next year for the first time since 1916.

Many had worried whether their acceptance or rejection was by a wide or slim margin.

The principal reason for secrecy was that the board felt the student might misinterpret his score if it were made available to him. This is because colleges, in making admission decisions, consider not only the score but also high school records, recommendations and other factors discovered by counselors.

Mock Bomb Raids Wipe Out 3 U. S. Cities Second Time

PINECASTLE AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—An armada of atomic bombers, led by two jet aircraft from Britain's Royal Air Force, in theory wiped out Kansas City, St. Louis and Atlanta in darkness for the second consecutive night.

It was all part of the second round of six rounds—one a day—in the annual competition of the Strategic Air Command.

The two British bombers in today's competition were in Avro Vulcan from Waddington, Lincolnshire, commanded by Wing Commander C. C. Calder, and a Vickers Valiant from Wintering, Northamptonshire, commanded by Squadron leader Ronald W. Payne.

The first of the medium bombers scheduled to take off from this central Florida base today, they sought to overcome a disappointing start Thursday when another Vulcan placed 27th and a Valliant 43rd among 45 competing bombers.

The top scorer in the opening round Thursday was a B47 crew from the 22nd Bomb Wing, March AFB, Calif. It was followed closely by a B47 team from the 509th Bomb Wing, Walker AFB, Roswell, N. M.

Heavy bombers—B36s and B52s—from Carswell AFB, Tex., also participated. The best they could do in the opening round were 8th place for B36 and 10th place for the best B52.

All the bombing was by radar from altitudes of 33,000 to 35,000 feet. In the scoring it was assumed that each bomber was carrying a 1,000 pound general purpose bomb. In real action the load more likely would be a nuclear or hydrogen bomb.

Placing the heavy bombers with 411 points in the combined bombing-navigation category was a 5th Bomb Wing crew from Travis Air Force Base, Calif., in a B36 commanded by Maj. Robert D. Gardner, 34, Salem, Ore.

Runnership in the heavy bomber class and their combined scores included Laverne L. Berneburg, 33, Lima, Ohio, with 389 points.

The bag limit for pheasants is only two a day. Cock birds only may be taken. It is unlawful to have more than four in possession after the first day of the open season.

The bag limit for rabbits is four a day with only eight in possession.

"WE ARE EXPECTING a lot of outside hunters here for the first couple of days," Krupla said. "Many land owners have told me that they will not allow hunting the first couple of days of the season, but may later on."

Krupla commented that night hunters began going after raccoon, possum and skunk last midnight. The season continues on these until Feb. 15, 1958. There is a bag limit of four a day on raccoon, but no limit on possum and skunk.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife has set the trapping season for Nov. 15 to March 15, 1958. Muskrat, mink, raccoon, possum and skunk are on the list for trapping with no limits. There is, no open season on beaver.

All wild ducks are now in open season here in Fayette County. The season will continue until Dec. 26. Hunting is allowed only following half an hour after sunrise until half an hour before sunset. The day's bag limit is four, and no hunter may have more than eight ducks in his possession.

Krupla said all duck hunters must have duck stamps in addition to their Ohio hunting licenses. This applies equally to landowners as well as hunters on land other than their own. Stamps may be bought at the post office for $2.

Pike County Boy Killed in Mishap

WAVERLY (AP)—Bobby Ray Stencer, 16, of nearby Stockdale, was killed instantly Thursday when his 13-year - old hunting companion's shotgun accidentally discharged.

Sheriff's deputies reported Stencer was standing about 20 feet from William Chester Radabaugh Jr., also of Stockdale, when the youth stumbled over a tire in his front yard and his shotgun discharged.

Robinson Says Birdie Helped Beat 'Jinx'

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The way Cincinnati's Frank Robinson tells it, 90 per cent of his recognition as the Associated Press sophomore-of-the-year in the National League belongs to his manager, Birdie Tebbetts.

"He kept after me all the way, and that's what a young ballplayer needs, because all of us let down too easily, thinking we've got it made," the 22-year-old Redleg said today on learning the results of the annual poll.

Robinson's 1957 performance at first base and in left field earned top billing for him and knocked the props from under the so-called "sophomore jinx." Robinson was the league's 1956 rookie-of - the-year.

"It's wonderful. I'll be up in the air about it for a week, and I doubt if I'll be much good to the Marines," Robinson said here at the Marine recruit training base where he'll spend six months of reserve training to end April 1.

The righthanded hitter drew 57 of the 182 ballots cast by participating members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the AP poll.

On Paper, OSU Looks Like Big 10 King

CHICAGO (AP) — Strictly off the form sheet, Ohio State appears to have the best chance to hold the lead in the Big Ten football title chase after Saturday's full schedule of conference clashes.

Top game will be at Michigan where Iowa risks its perfect 3-0 league record against the once-beaten Wolverines. This contest, televised nationally, rates as a tossup.

Ohio State's homecoming engagement is with winless Northwestern. The oddsmakers have installed the Buckeyes 14 point favorites as they seek a fourth straight conference triumph that would give them the outright lead if Iowa should lose.

Michigan State's chances of staying in the championship picture after being defeated once in four starts rest with victory over explosive Wisconsin. The Badgers, losing 21-7 to Iowa and 16-13 to Ohio State in succession, will be geared for an upset before 52,000 home fans. MSU is a seven-point choice.

Another close one appears on tap at Illinois where Purdue is the opponent. Illinois is favored by a touchdown.

Minnesota, after successive beatings by Illinois and Michigan, still is a four-touchdown pick of the oddsmakers over Indiana.

The Ohio Division of Wildlife has set the trapping season for Nov. 15 to March 15, 1958. Muskrat, mink, raccoon, possum and skunk are on the list for trapping with no limits. There is, no open season on beaver.

All wild ducks are now in open season here in Fayette County. The season will continue until Dec. 26. Hunting is allowed only following half an hour after sunrise until half an hour before sunset. The day's bag limit is four, and no hunter may have more than eight ducks in his possession.

Krupla said all duck hunters must have duck stamps in addition to their Ohio hunting licenses. This applies equally to landowners as well as hunters on land other than their own. Stamps may be bought at the post office for $2.

It takes about 10 tons of coal to make about two tons of steel.

Pike County Boy Killed in Mishap

WAVERLY (AP)—Bobby Ray Stencer, 16, of nearby Stockdale, was killed instantly Thursday when his 13-year - old hunting companion's shotgun accidentally discharged.

Sheriff's deputies reported Stencer was standing about 20 feet from William Chester Radabaugh Jr., also of Stockdale, when the youth stumbled over a tire in his front yard and his shotgun discharged.

Robinson Says Birdie Helped Beat 'Jinx'

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The way Cincinnati's Frank Robinson tells it, 90 per cent of his recognition as the Associated Press sophomore-of-the-year in the National League belongs to his manager, Birdie Tebbetts.

"He kept after me all the way, and that's what a young ballplayer needs, because all of us let down too easily, thinking we've got it made," the 22-year-old Redleg said today on learning the results of the annual poll.

Robinson's 1957 performance at first base and in left field earned top billing for him and knocked the props from under the so-called "sophomore jinx." Robinson was the league's 1956 rookie-of - the-year.

"It's wonderful. I'll be up in the air about it for a week, and I doubt if I'll be much good to the Marines," Robinson said here at the Marine recruit training base where he'll spend six months of reserve training to end April 1.

The righthanded hitter drew 57 of the 182 ballots cast by participating members of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America in the AP poll.

On Paper, OSU Looks Like Big 10 King

CHICAGO (AP) — Strictly off the form sheet, Ohio State appears to have the best chance to hold the lead in the Big Ten football title chase after Saturday's full schedule of conference clashes.

Top game will be at Michigan where Iowa risks its perfect 3-0 league record against the once-beaten Wolverines. This contest, televised nationally, rates as a tossup.

Ohio State's homecoming engagement is with winless Northwestern. The oddsmakers have installed the Buckeyes 14 point favorites as they seek a fourth straight conference triumph that would give them the outright lead if Iowa should lose.

Michigan State's chances of staying in the championship picture after being defeated once in four starts rest with victory over explosive Wisconsin. The Badgers, losing 21-7 to Iowa and 16-13 to Ohio State in succession, will be geared for an upset before 52,000 home fans. MSU is a seven-point choice.

Another close one appears on tap at Illinois where Purdue is the opponent. Illinois is favored by a touchdown.

Nishitetsu Lions Cop Japan World Series

The Lions won four games and drew one in the best-of-seven Japan World Series.

Vital Weekend Faces College Grid Giants

Only 4 of Top 10 Appear To Be Headed For Easy Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College football reaches the point of no return this weekend in the big races for conference titles and bowl shots.

Among the unbeaten, untied giants, only four clubs among the nation's top 10 figure to be breathing easy come Saturday evening.

Oklahoma should have a ball making Kansas State No. 46 in its winning streak. It looks like the same sort of afternoon for Ohio State, Army and North Carolina State, rated eight, nine and 10 in the current Associated Press poll.

Ohio State, still shooting for the Rose Bowl and maybe the Big Ten crown as well, meets winless Northwestern. Army, once-beaten as is Ohio State, plays Colgate. And NC State, undefeated but twice tied, and NCAA barred from a bowl bid, meets winless Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

But for the rest — blood, sweat and maybe tears here and there.

Texas A&M, carrying the No 1 ranking for the first time this season, meets Arkansas, once-beaten but still breathing in the Southwest conference fight for the Cotton Bowl. Unbeaten Iowa and Auburn, ranked third and fourth, could have tough times against conference foes, too — the Hawkeyes against improved Michigan and Auburn against Florida.

Undefeated Notre Dame, rated No. 5, has slipped past Army and Pittsburgh in its last two games and now meets once-beaten Navy.

Michigan State, No. 6, still has a hope for the Rose Bowl going into Saturday's game with Wisconsin's Badgers. And tied but unbeaten Duke, ranked No. 7 with the ACC's Orange Bowl OK apparently in hand, has a toughie in Georgia Tech, a poor 2-2-1, but still in line for a bowl berth.

That's what the top 10 face Saturday. Now here's the picture in the conference races:

BIG TEN—Iowa can't play in the Rose Bowl two years in a row, but the Hawkeyes could repeat as conference champs by defeating Michigan — and then Minnesota and Ohio State.

SOUTHEASTERN— Auburn and Florida are both barred from bowls by NCAA probation. Auburn currently is tied for the lead with Mississippi, which meets non league Houston Saturday night.

BIG EIGHT — If anyone but Oklahoma rules this roost it might be Missouri, if the Tigers can get past Colorado Saturday. Then all Missouri has to do is knock off the Sooners next week.

PACIFIC COAST — Oregon, Washington State and Stanford lead the way in the battle to the Rose Bowl, and Oregon meets Stanford Saturday. Washington State plays Oregon State.

ATLANTIC COAST—Duke, tied by NC State, has the nod because of the Wolfpacks' bad boy ranking by the NCAA.

IVY—Dartmouth, lone unbeaten, untied team in the East, meets Yale and the loser likely has had it. Princeton, tied with Dartmouth in the league, plays Brown.

MATHER RESIGNS—Chuck Mather, University of Kansas head football coach, and three assistants, have announced their resignations, effective at close of the grid season. In six games this season the Jayhawks won only one, tied one and lost four. (International)

Blue Lions Play Hilliards Tonight

Only two members of the Lion Varsity will be out of action when the three-team squad goes to Hilliards for a return game Friday night.

A couple of others are not quite up to par, after having shaken off an attack of flu, Coach Domenico said. "They probably won't play unless something unexpected happens ...we just don't want to take chances with their health."

Dick Welsh, center, who has been out for some time with the flu, and John Campbell, quarterback, who dislocated a shoulder in practice, probably will go to Hilliards, but they will watch the game from the bench.

The Lions, getting back in form after a four - day layoff from practice, are anxious to avenge the 33-13 defeat handed them by Hilliards last year. Domenico said of the Lions: "Their spirit is good and their timing has not suffered much by the enforced (by illness) vacation from practice."

THURSDAY'S pre - game drill was held right after school because the Halloween festivities spread all over the football field at Gardner Park Thursday night.

Besides running through their plays, there was a lot of practice on place - kicking, punting and kicking - off with Jack Anders, Bob Huff and Gil Crouse doing most of the booting. Domenico said afterward that "they're getting better all the time... Gil sent some kickoffs way down the field."

The lineup for tonight's game will be just about the same as that in the Rosary and Oak Hill games — with plenty of substitutions.

* * *

FIRST CALL for duty on the line will go to Jack Anders and Jack Wilson at the ends, backed up by Aaron Foster, Gene Hamby and Ron Seaman; Jack Crabtree and Ron Carter at the tackles, supported by Jack Gillen and Charles Pendergraft; Jack Hamilton and Jim Wilson at the guard spots with Bob Huff, Jim Kellough and Eddie Lee behind them.

The squad will make the trip to Hilliards in private cars (usually it goes by bus) driven by volunteers. It will leave the field house at the park at 5:15 p. m.

The WHS marching band will be at the game, too, to put on a unique musical travelogue for its part of the halftime show.

Turnpike, Aides' Union Involved in Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American Federation of Federal, State, Local and Municipal Employes Union and the Ohio Turnpike Commission appear to be heading for a showdown on employe representation Tuesday.

3 Men at Large Named In Andover Bank Theft

JEFFERSON (AP)—Bank robbery warrants were filed Thursday by Sheriff Tom Fasula charging three Lake County men still at large with the $24,900 holdup of the Andover Bank a week ago. Paul B. Pritt, 21, of Eastlake; Carl L. Kellerman Jr., 20, of Painesville, and Charles Bradbury, 24, of Mentor-on-the-Lake, were named in the warrants.

Irish Fully Alert For Navy Air Arm

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Navy's air arm, in the person of passer Tom Forrestal, has caused quite an alert at Notre Dame.

The unbeaten Irish, ranked No. 5 nationally off four victories, have been cramming on pass defense all week in preparations for the Middies Saturday.

Forrestal has completed 49 out of 95 tosses for 687 yards and 6 touchdowns. Last week, he fired four touchdown passes in leading Navy to a 35-7 victory over Pennsylvania.

The Irish will try to duplicate the feat of North Carolina. The Tarheels intercepted five passes in handing the Middies their only setback in six starts.

5 Yankees Get Refunds on Fines

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra confirmed today that he and four other New York Yankees who were fined for a brawl in a New York nightclub last May have received a refund from the club.

Berra said he, Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford and Johnny Kucks had been repaid and "everything is fine now." All but Kucks were fined $1,000. The young pitcher escaped with only a $500 nick out of his salary.

Billy Martin, whose birthday party flared into the brawl, received his $1,000 refund when traded to Kansas City.

WCH Juniors Lost Finale

The Washington C. H. Junior High School football season came to ar end Thursday after school at Chillicothe on a sad note when they were handed their first defeat in six games by the W. Fifth St. Junior High School outfit. The score was 27 to 0.

The WCH boys, under the guidance of Coach Herb Russell, won their first five games without a defeat, but could not even score on the bigger Chillicothe team in their final game.

Fumbles were the undoing of the WCH Juniors. They lost the ball twice inside the 20-yard line when they appeared to be TD-bound.

The Chillicotheans tallied in the second and third periods and then were held until the last four minutes of the last quarter. Then, with the end of the game in sight, the Chillicothe team put across two quickies, one through the air, to blank the WHS Juniors, 27-0.

Cage Pilot Nat Holman Lauds Sportsmanship of Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Nat Holman, famous American basketball coach, says he is learning a new meaning of sportsmanship and team play from the Japanese.

"These people have captured the true spirit of the game more than anybody I have seen," the City College of New York coach who is on a year's sabbatical leave, added today. "They could teach us lessons."

Holman, one of the original Celtics who coached national championship teams at CCNY, is in Japan as part of a U. S. specialists program to teach the Japanese the game of basketball. He will remain here through December, helping organize the Japanese team for Asian games next spring.

"The Japanese are great imitators and they take to the game swiftly," Holman said. "They love baseball and most of them have had baseball experience. I have always felt a baseball player can always play basketball."

The American coach said the Japanese suffer from lack of height, which is essential for success in the United States. But they make up for the deficiency with excellent physical condition, speed and ball handling.

"In America every team has a big man who is planted under the basket and the whole game revolves around him," Holman said. "The other players are subordinate. In Japan, there are no seven-foot giants, so the teams depend strictly on team play.

"That's the kind of basketball I like—team coordination, sharp passing and shooting. The Japanese play it that way. They are fast and keep the game moving—no delaying tactics."

Holman said he also was impressed by the country's sense of sportsmanship.

"Before every game the teams line up opposite each other, bow and shake hands in mutual respect," he added. "When a player is removed from the game, he runs swiftly to the bench without protest. When he is put out for excessive fouls he goes to the sideline, bows to the crowd and sits down. It's wonderful."

Willie Mays Expected To Relish New Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Manager Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants sees the best years of Willie Mays "yet to come."

"I think Willie will hit .360 to .380 and win the triple crown one of these seasons," said Rigney as Willie took a first look at Seals Stadium where he'll be playing next season.

Vital Weekend Faces College Grid Giants

Only 4 of Top 10 Appear To Be Headed For Easy Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

College football reaches the point of no return this weekend in the big races for conference titles and bowl shots.

Among the unbeaten, untied giants, only four clubs among the nation's top 10 figure to be breathing easy come Saturday evening.

Oklahoma should have a ball making Kansas State No. 46 in its winning streak. It looks like the same sort of afternoon for Ohio State, Army and North Carolina State, rated eight, nine and 10 in the current Associated Press poll.

Ohio State, still shooting for the Rose Bowl and maybe the Big Ten crown as well, meets winless Northwestern. Army, once-beaten as is Ohio State, plays Colgate. And NC State, undefeated but twice tied, and NCAA barred from a bowl bid, meets winless Wake Forest in an Atlantic Coast Conference game.

But for the rest — blood, sweat and maybe tears here and there.

Texas A&M, carrying the No 1 ranking for the first time this season, meets Arkansas, once-beaten but still breathing in the Southwest conference fight for the Cotton Bowl. Unbeaten Iowa and Auburn, ranked third and fourth, could have tough times against conference foes, too — the Hawkeyes against improved Michigan and Auburn against Florida.

Undefeated Notre Dame, rated No. 5, has slipped past Army and Pittsburgh in its last two games and now meets once-beaten Navy.

Michigan State, No. 6, still has a hope for the Rose Bowl going into Saturday's game with Wisconsin's Badgers. And tied but unbeaten Duke, ranked No. 7 with the ACC's Orange Bowl OK apparently in hand, has a toughie in Georgia Tech, a poor 2-2-1, but still in line for a bowl berth.

That's what the top 10 face Saturday. Now here's the picture in the conference races:

BIG TEN—Iowa can't play in the Rose Bowl two years in a row, but the Hawkeyes could repeat as conference champs by defeating Michigan — and then Minnesota and Ohio State.

SOUTHEASTERN— Auburn and Florida are both barred from bowls by NCAA probation. Auburn currently is tied for the lead with Mississippi, which meets non league Houston Saturday night.

BIG EIGHT — If anyone but Oklahoma rules this roost it might be Missouri, if the Tigers can get past Colorado Saturday. Then all Missouri has to do is knock off the Sooners next week.

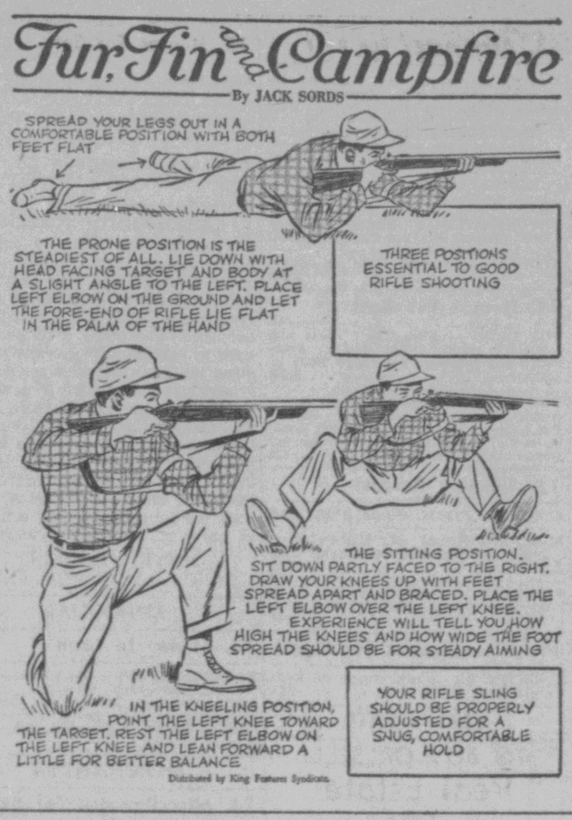

PACIFIC COAST — Oregon, Washington State and Stanford lead the way in the battle to the Rose Bowl, and Oregon meets Stanford Saturday. Washington State plays Oregon State.

ATLANTIC COAST—Duke, tied by NC State, has the nod because of the Wolfpacks' bad boy ranking by the NCAA.

IVY—Dartmouth, lone unbeaten, untied team in the East, meets Yale and the loser likely has had it. Princeton, tied with Dartmouth in the league, plays Brown.

MATHER RESIGNS—Chuck Mather, University of Kansas head football coach, and three assistants, have announced their resignations, effective at close of the grid season. In six games this season the Jayhawks won only one, tied one and lost four. (International)

Blue Lions Play Hilliards Tonight

Only two members of the Lion Varsity will be out of action when the three-team squad goes to Hilliards for a return game Friday night.

A couple of others are not quite up to par, after having shaken off an attack of flu, Coach Domenico said. "They probably won't play unless something unexpected happens ...we just don't want to take chances with their health."

Dick Welsh, center, who has been out for some time with the flu, and John Campbell, quarterback, who dislocated a shoulder in practice, probably will go to Hilliards, but they will watch the game from the bench.

The Lions, getting back in form after a four - day layoff from practice, are anxious to avenge the 33-13 defeat handed them by Hilliards last year. Domenico said of the Lions: "Their spirit is good and their timing has not suffered much by the enforced (by illness) vacation from practice."

THURSDAY'S pre - game drill was held right after school because the Halloween festivities spread all over the football field at Gardner Park Thursday night.

Besides running through their plays, there was a lot of practice on place - kicking, punting and kicking - off with Jack Anders, Bob Huff and Gil Crouse doing most of the booting. Domenico said afterward that "they're getting better all the time... Gil sent some kickoffs way down the field."

The lineup for tonight's game will be just about the same as that in the Rosary and Oak Hill games — with plenty of substitutions.

* * *

FIRST CALL for duty on the line will go to Jack Anders and Jack Wilson at the ends, backed up by Aaron Foster, Gene Hamby and Ron Seaman; Jack Crabtree and Ron Carter at the tackles, supported by Jack Gillen and Charles Pendergraft; Jack Hamilton and Jim Wilson at the guard spots with Bob Huff, Jim Kellough and Eddie Lee behind them.

The squad will make the trip to Hilliards in private cars (usually it goes by bus) driven by volunteers. It will leave the field house at the park at 5:15 p. m.

The WHS marching band will be at the game, too, to put on a unique musical travelogue for its part of the halftime show.

Ohio's Top Ten Awaits Contests

COLUMBUS (AP) —Here is the weekend schedule for Ohio's "top 10" high school football teams. Games are today unless noted otherwise).

Cleveland Benedictine (1) vs Cleveland Cathedral Latin; Massillon (2) vs Barberton; Warren Harding (3) vs Lorain; Cincinnati Purcell (4) vs Cincinnati Roger Bacon (Sunday); Toledo DeVilbiss (5) at Dayton Fairview (Saturday); Fremont (6) vs Marion; Youngstown South (7) vs Youngstown Rayen) Canton McKinley (8) vs Mansfield; Troy (9) vs Piqua; East Cleveland Shaw (1) vs Parma.

Turnpike, Aides' Union Involved in Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American Federation of Federal, State, Local and Municipal Employes Union and the Ohio Turnpike Commission appear to be heading for a showdown on employe representation Tuesday.

Edward P. Dailey of Youngstown, regional director of the union, sent out a letter urging 328 workers to attend a meeting at the turnpike headquarters parking lot Tuesday. The commission's executive director, C. W. Hartford, said the parking lot would not be available for any such meeting.

3 Men at Large Named In Andover Bank Theft

JEFFERSON (AP)—Bank robbery warrants were filed Thursday by Sheriff Tom Fasula charging three Lake County men still at large with the $24,900 holdup of the Andover Bank a week ago. Paul B. Pritt, 21, of Eastlake; Carl L. Kellerman Jr., 20, of Painesville, and Charles Bradbury, 24, of Mentor-on-the-Lake, were named in the warrants.

Irish Fully Alert For Navy Air Arm

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Navy's air arm, in the person of passer Tom Forrestal, has caused quite an alert at Notre Dame.

The unbeaten Irish, ranked No. 5 nationally off four victories, have been cramming on pass defense all week in preparations for the Middies Saturday.

Forrestal has completed 49 out of 95 tosses for 687 yards and 6 touchdowns. Last week, he fired four touchdown passes in leading Navy to a 35-7 victory over Pennsylvania.

The Irish will try to duplicate the feat of North Carolina. The Tarheels intercepted five passes in handing the Middies their only setback in six starts.

Middleweights Getting Restless

NEW YORK (AP)—While Carmen Basilio waits on Sugar Ray Robinson and the International Boxing Club to decide when he will defend his world middleweight title, the contenders are getting restless.

Spider Webb, Chicago, the No. 6 boy in the Ring ratings, will try to strengthen his claim tonight in a 10-round match with Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles at Madison Square Garden. Webb is the 13 to 5 favorite.

Gene Fullmer, the No. 2 contender, meets Neal Rivers at the Garden, Nov. 15 and Rory Calhoun, No. 3 takes on Bobby Boyd, No. 9, in the same ring Nov. 22.

5 Yankees Get Refunds on Fines

NEW YORK (AP) — Yogi Berra confirmed today that he and four other New York Yankees who were fined for a brawl in a New York nightclub last May have received a refund from the club.

Berra said he, Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, Whitey Ford and Johnny Kucks had been repaid and "everything is fine now." All but Kucks were fined $1,000. The young pitcher escaped with only a $500 nick out of his salary.

Billy Martin, whose birthday party flared into the brawl, received his $1,000 refund when traded to Kansas City.

Canadian Holds Lead In San Diego Tourney

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The San Diego Open Golf Tournament goes into its third round today with Canadian Al Balding holding a two stroke lead with a 13-under-par score of 131 for 36 holes.

Dow Finsterwald of Athens, Ohio, has 67-69—136.

WCH Juniors Lost Finale

The Washington C. H. Junior High School football season came to an end Thursday after school at Chillicothe on a sad note when they were handed their first defeat in six games by the W. Fifth St. Junior High School outfit. The score was 27 to 0.

The WCH boys, under the guidance of Coach Herb Russell, won their first five games without a defeat, but could not even score on the bigger Chillicothe team in their final game.

Fumbles were the undoing of the WCH Juniors. They lost the ball twice inside the 20-yard line when they appeared to be TD-bound.

The Chillicotheans tallied in the second and third periods and then were held until the last four minutes of the last quarter. Then, with the end of the game in sight, the Chillicothe team put across two quickies, one through the air, to blank the WHS Juniors, 27-0.

Cage Pilot Nat Holman Lauds Sportsmanship of Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Nat Holman, famous American basketball coach, says he is learning a new meaning of sportsmanship and team play from the Japanese.

"These people have captured the true spirit of the game more than anybody I have seen," the City College of New York coach who is on a year's sabbatical leave, added today. "They could teach us lessons."

Holman, one of the original Celtics who coached national championship teams at CCNY, is in Japan as part of a U. S. specialists program to teach the Japanese the game of basketball. He will remain here through December, helping organize the Japanese team for Asian games next spring.

"The Japanese are great imitators and they take to the game swiftly," Holman said. "They love baseball and most of them have had baseball experience. I have always felt a baseball player can always play basketball."

The American coach said the Japanese suffer from lack of height, which is essential for success in the United States. But they make up for the deficiency with excellent physical condition, speed and ball handling.

"In America every team has a big man who is planted under the basket and the whole game revolves around him," Holman said. "The other players are subordinate. In Japan, there are no seven-foot giants, so the teams depend strictly on team play.

"That's the kind of basketball I like—team coordination, sharp passing and shooting. The Japanese play it that way. They are fast and keep the game moving—no delaying tactics."

Holman said he also was impressed by the country's sense of sportsmanship.

"Before every game the teams line up opposite each other, bow and shake hands in mutual respect," he added. "When a player is removed from the game, he runs swiftly to the bench without protest. When he is put out for excessive fouls he goes to the sideline, bows to the crowd and sits down. It's wonderful."

Willie Mays Expected To Relish New Park

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Manager Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants sees the best years of Willie Mays "yet to come."

"I think Willie will hit .360 to .380 and win the triple crown one of these seasons," said Rigney as Willie took a first look at Seals Stadium where he'll be playing next season.

Ohio Motorists To Get No Cards

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio is going to discontinue a year-old system of notifying the motorist that his driver's license is going to expire, Georgt C. Braden, registrar of motor vehicles, says.

When it stops the card notification system early in December, Braden said, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles feels it will save $100,000 to $110,000 a year.

Braden said that when the system is stopped, the driver can renew his license the way he did before the system went into operation. The driver should take his license, good for three years, to a deputy registrar to apply for a new one.

Ohio Motorists To Get No Cards

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio is going to discontinue a year-old system of notifying the motorist that his driver's license is going to expire, Georgt C. Braden, registrar of motor vehicles, says.

When it stops the card notification system early in December, Braden said, the Bureau of Motor Vehicles feels it will save $100,000 to $110,000 a year.

Braden said that when the system is stopped, the driver can renew his license the way he did before the system went into operation. The driver should take his license, good for three years, to a deputy registrar to apply for a new one.

TV Viewer Seen Getting Degree

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harry Bannister, a vice president of the National Broadcasting Co., says educational television may eventually permit a person to earn a college degree without ever stepping inside a classroom.

Bannister made his prediction in a speech to the National Assn. of Educational Broadcasters and urged broadcasters to use television as a supplement to meet the growing need for education facilities.

The verdict was returned at 8:35 p. m. after the jury had deliberated more than three hours. The trial opened Thursday morning.

Texas Rangers Keep Peace in Labor Dispute

DAINGERFIELD, Tex. (AP)—Texas Ranger Capt. Jay Banks, backed by armed reinforcements, today vowed to maintain order in this strike-torn east Texas area.

Rangers and state patrolmen, were spread over a 10-county area surrounding the Lone Star Steel Co. plant, focal point of a bitter, six-week-old wildcat strike.

"This is an explosive situation," Banks said, standing outside his command post in a motel here, "but we plan to take any action necessary to keep order."

Sporadic bombings, brawls and gunfire have rocked the area since the walkout started Sept. 21. The dispute centers on company policies in filling job vacancies.

"We're pretty sure most of the violence stems from the strike," said Banks, 45, soft-talking, 6-feet-3 peace officer with one notch on the huge pistol he carried.

Five additional Rangers and 16 more state patrolmen were dispatched to his command last night after an appeal to Gov. Price Daniel by Carl Estes, publisher of the Longview News-Journal. The reinforcements gave Banks a total of 10 Rangers.

"The bitterness of the strikers stems from the pocketbook," said a Daingerfield merchant, who asked not to be named. "They are sore at the guys who didn't walk out with them and those that later went back to work."

Company spokesman say the plant had a work force of about 3,500 when the strike started. Nearly 700 men refused to join the unsanctioned strike, and about 600 pickets are back on the job.

Steel Chief Sees Business Leveling Off

NEW YORK (AP) — A new chief executive officer was running Bethlehem Steel Corp. today following retirement of Eugene Grace, last of the old time steel makers.

The new chief executive, Arthur B. Homer, ushered in his new role by saying "it looks to us as if there's a leveling off in business."

Grace, 81, retired as chairman and chief executive officer. The post of chairman was abolished but Grace was named honorary chairman and will continue as a director. Homer, the company's president, was made chief executive officer.

While Homer acknowledged a current leveling off in business, he added business was still on a "very good" level. And he was optimistic about the long range outlook.

Bethlehem reported net income of $40,051,465, equal to 86 cents a share, for the three months ended Sept. 30. This was well ahead of last year, when a strike cut down net income to $4,428,143 or six cents a share.

But it was below the second quarter results of $50,273,507 or $1.09 a share and Homer said the company has not had quite what was expected in the way of orders from the auto industry. Demand for containers and pipe also is a little lower than expected.

California Political Pot Boils With New Switch by Knight

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Renewed reports that Gov. Goodwin Knight would bid for a U. S. Senate seat instead of seeking reelection next year created fresh turmoil in California's hectic political campaign today.

San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers, quoting both Washington sources and "friends of the governor," said the ailing Republican chief executive sent that word from his out-of-state vacation hideaway.

Such a decision would, in effect, hand the Republican nomination for governor to Sen. William F. Knowland and spare the GOP a bitter intraparty battle in next June's primary.

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

There was no direct confirmation from the 60-year-old governor. He left for a three-week rest Monday on doctor's orders after saying he still intended to seek reelection. Knight said then he had rejected overtures to run for the Senate.

His press secretary, Tom Bright phoned the latest reports to Knight's secret retreat and quoted the governor as saying he had no comment. The absence of a firm denial was quickly noted here.

Brown accepting the reports at face value, denounced Knight's asserted shift as "a cynical deal engineered by a grasping reactionary with eyes fixed on the White House."

"The governor was forced to change his mind," Brown continued. "He became the victim of a plot engineered by Knowland that dried up the sources of his campaign funds and enticed away many of his big name supporters. Knight was confronted with polls which showed him losing to Knowland. He was then served with an ultimatum to either get out of the governor's race and campaign for the Senate or face certain political death. Lonely and abandoned, he bowed to his masters."

Knight, along with other Republicans, has warned that the deep party wounds inflicted by a Knight-Knowland showdown might cost the GOP the state in 1958 and 1960, a presidential year.

Newspaper polls have shown Knight lagging behind Knowland in the Republican contest.

In the background of all the maneuvering is a battle for party power, with control of California's delegation to the 1960 Republican National Convention the real prize. The state's vote, the second largest, could prove important to the presidential nomination chances of Knowland and Vice President Nixon. In 1956, California had 70 votes in the Republican National Convention; New York had 96.

Asian Flu Vaccine To Be Strengthened

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The U.S. surgeon general, Dr. Leroy E. Burney, said Thursday night a more powerful vaccine against Asian flu should be ready for release by the last of November.

Dr. Burney said the present vaccine produces antibodies to give some protection against the virus to 81 per cent of the people inoculated.

"By doubling the potency, the number in which it produces antibodies will increase up to 95 per cent," he said.

Dr. Burney said virus disease experts have concluded a high incidence of the Asian flu will continue for the next 8 or 10 weeks.

Pakistan's population is between 75 and 80 million.

Camp Fire Girls Set Candy Sale

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds—around 150 of them—will start going from house to house here Saturday in their annual candy sale.

The sale here is a part of a nation-wide project approved by the national organization.

It will continue until the candy is all gone and, on the basis of past experience, members of the Camp Fire Council here, said they do not think it will last long.

The candy, which is packed in sealed cans, is the same as that sold last year; there are 2,496 cans of it.

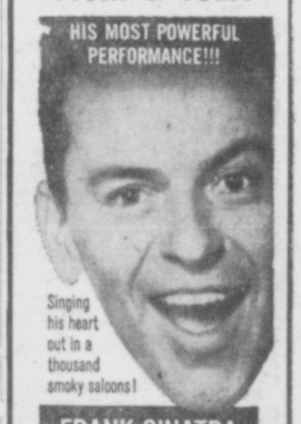

This is the eighth year for the sale here.

A spokesman for the Council explained that the Council gets support for the overall Camp Fire program from the Community Chest and that the money from the candy sale goes to the various groups to support their own programs.

California Political Pot Boils With New Switch by Knight

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Renewed reports that Gov. Goodwin Knight would bid for a U. S. Senate seat instead of seeking reelection next year created fresh turmoil in California's hectic political campaign today.

San Francisco and Los Angeles newspapers, quoting both Washington sources and "friends of the governor," said the ailing Republican chief executive sent that word from his out-of-state vacation hideaway.

Such a decision would, in effect, hand the Republican nomination for governor to Sen. William F. Knowland and spare the GOP a bitter intraparty battle in next June's primary.

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown is unopposed on the Democratic ticket.

There was no direct confirmation from the 60-year-old governor. He left for a three-week rest Monday on doctor's orders after saying he still intended to seek reelection. Knight said then he had rejected overtures to run for the Senate.

His press secretary, Tom Bright phoned the latest reports to Knight's secret retreat and quoted the governor as saying he had no comment. The absence of a firm denial was quickly noted here.

Brown accepting the reports at face value, denounced Knight's asserted shift as "a cynical deal engineered by a grasping reactionary with eyes fixed on the White House."

"The governor was forced to change his mind," Brown continued. "He became the victim of a plot engineered by Knowland that dried up the sources of his campaign funds and enticed away many of his big name supporters. Knight was confronted with polls which showed him losing to Knowland. He was then served with an ultimatum to either get out of the governor's race and campaign for the Senate or face certain political death. Lonely and abandoned, he bowed to his masters."

Knight, along with other Republicans, has warned that the deep party wounds inflicted by a Knight-Knowland showdown might cost the GOP the state in 1958 and 1960, a presidential year.

Newspaper polls have shown Knight lagging behind Knowland in the Republican contest.

In the background of all the maneuvering is a battle for party power, with control of California's delegation to the 1960 Republican National Convention the real prize. The state's vote, the second largest, could prove important to the presidential nomination chances of Knowland and Vice President Nixon. In 1956, California had 70 votes in the Republican National Convention; New York had 96.

The presidential address is one of a number the chief executive promised when he addressed the National Fund for Medical Education in New York City Oct. 21.

Asian Flu Vaccine To Be Strengthened

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The U.S. surgeon general, Dr. Leroy E. Burney, said Thursday night a more powerful vaccine against Asian flu should be ready for release by the last of November.

Dr. Burney said the present vaccine produces antibodies to give some protection against the virus to 81 per cent of the people inoculated.

"By doubling the potency, the number in which it produces antibodies will increase up to 95 per cent," he said.

Dr. Burney said virus disease experts have concluded a high incidence of the Asian flu will continue for the next 8 or 10 weeks.

Pakistan's population is between 75 and 80 million.

Camp Fire Girls Set Candy Sale

Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds —around 150 of them—will start going from house to house here Saturday in their annual candy sale.

The sale here is a part of a nation-wide project approved by the national organization.

It will continue until the candy is all gone and, on the basis of past experience, members of the Camp Fire Council here, said they do not think it will last long.

The candy, which is packed in sealed cans, is the same as that sold last year; there are 2,496 cans of it.

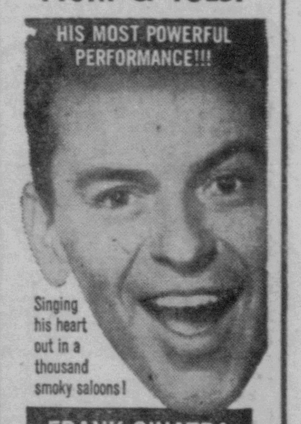

This is the eighth year for the sale here.

A spokesman for the Council explained that the Council gets support for the overall Camp Fire program from the Community Chest and that the money from the candy sale goes to the various groups to support their own programs.
